A Message on Truck Certification

Deputy Chief Rice sent out an informational awareness email back on May 4th. This email was a reminder advising members to please look at the included PowerPoint presentation to help answer the questions that have been coming up regarding "getting certified on trucks". This tool is comprehensive and should answer the questions you may have. If there are still questions, he advised to look at the SOG's in Aladtec. An important point is that it is the member's responsibility to log their own hours in Aladtec. The training committee is not responsible for tracking an individual's hours or letting anyone know what he still needs to do. It is each person's responsibility. It is very important for you to prearrange this certification, and if you have further questions, please ask someone in the training division.
