

HEAVY SNOW PREVENTS REGULAR FEB. MEETING

Tuesday afternoon the snow was really beginning to pile up and the calls began, no meeting tonight! Since the agenda was to organize the Charity quilt fabrics, the board members planned to meet and do the work on another day. They will have packages of fabric available for you to assemble at the March meeting. We will also have a guest speaker this month—Lily Marie Amaru will speak on “making waves” March 9th at 6:30.

MARCH HOSTESSES:

Jackie Weddle
Phyllis Peer
Betty Latimer
Kandi Harrower

DOOR PRIZE:

Linda Barrett

Note the three new members on the hostess list—way to jump in and participate, ladies!

ORDER SHIRTS IN MARCH

Darlene Packard says the shirt lady is recovered and ready for business. Get your shirts with names and Pine Needles insignia ordered at the March meeting. Darlene will have the order forms with her.

Sorry to hear that Andrea's Quilting Quarters has closed. Tough times to have started a business.

Directory due out soon. If you'd like a new photo, look pretty and find Carolyn. New Members, we esp. need your photos.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY

FAIR opens May 15-23. Deadlines for entries is April 3rd, with delivery on the 23rd and 24th. We expect to see lots of quilts at the next Show N Tell as those almost finished projects race to the finish line. Fair handbooks are (were) available at the library and the Antelope Valley Bank. There will be some available at the meeting also.

Mystery Quilt Participants, don't forget to bring your fabrics for Show N Tell next week. It's fun to see what all 34 of you started with.

31st Annual Glendale Quilt Show at the Burbank Airport Marriott Convention Center March 19-21st. Quilts, dolls, workshops, lectures, vendors and more—see glendalequiltquild.org for more information and directions.

All you ladies are becoming so internet savvy—last year we used snail mail for 25-30 of you, and this year only 11 ladies need their newsletters mailed. It's so much clearer and more colorful on the computer screen. And it saves money!

You'll notice this is a smaller edition than usual—the news got snowed in, so the snow became the news. Happy quilting in your cozy cabins!

AFRICAN FOLKLORE EMBROIDERY CHALLENGE!

$500 CASH prize will be offered to winner. Entries will be displayed at the International Quilt Festival in Long Beach, July 22-25th. Entry forms and submission information are available online at www.aflembroidery.com

Entry form and completed piece need to be submitted no later than July 10th. Contact Leora Raikin info@aflembroidery.com or call 818.999.6094.

Joy reports a successful hunt for fabric she needed on her Christmas tree quilt border at the site Joanne Tschantre mentioned a few weeks ago:

www.missingfabrics.com
A lady in Vermont had a piece of Joy's missing fabric and sent her a yard. Patricia Knox runs this site for free, but accepts donations for her time-consuming service.

www.fabshophop.com also is a helpful site, hooked up to lots of quilt stores in USA. Describe the fabric you're looking for, and they'll tell you who has it.

Other sites of interest are www.quiltville.com, with lots of free scrap quilt patterns. Alex Anderson also has her 12 days of Redwork designs free on www.alexandersonquilts.com
