PICTURE THIS! AUTHOR HERE

Quilt artist Marcia Stein from San Francisco gave us a trunk show of her bold graphic quilts. Wednesday she held a workshop for interested quilters. Marcia's technique includes drawing the pattern, color selection from fabric, shaping, then basting, and finally machine appliquéing to a pellon one inch grid cartoon which she uses for her foundation. In the workshop she showed us how to trace and enlarge our photos, then begin the fun of appliquéing.

Marcia's interest in design began with photography. She took workshop tours in Santa Fe and the south of France. While in a story quilt workshop with Mary Mashuta (who did a workshop here a few years ago) her interest was ignited in quilting. Now she is an author!

Two more new members WANTED FOR ACTION IN COMMITTEES: Giselda Melbar (pronounced Geese-eld-a) at PO Box 3321 Wrightwood, phone 760.249.1922 and
Trena Anderson at PO Box 292527, Phelan, phone 760.868.1377

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY FAIR Opens May 15th. The quilts have been delivered, but need to be hung. Any help you want to give the organizers will give you a free entry into the Fair. Volunteers are needed from the 15th through the 23th for 4 hour shifts.

The Quilter's Booth is being decorated by Joy, Charlotte and Lynn, but needs to be manned (womanned?) by volunteers demonstrating quilting techniques throughout the Fair run. Plan to sign up at our next general meeting on the 11th.

MINI-AUCTION has chairmen—Christy Close and Kandi Harrower. They're already longing for more quilts to be auctioned, and July is coming fast. One quilt from each member would be perfect. Rose Burcher is chairing the Home Tour.

New Friendship Block—make a block for a friend. Soon it will be your turn to receive help. Christy is still offering quilting bucks as credit for contributing.

MYSTERY QUILT envelopes were distributed by Linda Barrett in Lynn's absence. If you didn't get yours, it should have been in the mail later.

RAFFLE had some nice prizes collected by Alice Smith, Marlene Bowman, Kimberly Small and Marion Hall. While Jackie Weddle is away, Laura Greene is collecting raffle items and storing them in her garage.

After the last SCQSC meeting, Lorrie Havens reported that our guild was right on the money for their guidelines of philanthropy. Our packages to make charity quilts, quilts for Cancer Camp Kids, and our opportunity quilt to raise funds for local charities were recommended actions by the association.

OPPORTUNITY QUILT which our guild is working on now is being chaired by Beth. Beth needs cream and off white donated scraps for the backgrounds. She will be happy to help anyone needing guidelines on paper piecing or blanket stitching, with even a workshop as needed. When DO you turn the corner on a blanket stitch?

The monies collected from our last quilt have been distributed to Baldy Mesa School District for classroom supplies, and to Circle H Ranch, which is also a philanthropy.

ANTELOPE VALLEY QUILT GUILD is boldly following our example and doing their very first HOME TOUR May 22nd, 10-4. There will be the Opportunity Quilt Drawing, a silent auction, door prizes, vendor mall, and a featured quilter, Mary Brewer. A free Pfaff is one of the prizes. Our friends in Lancaster have been very supportive of our Tour, and now it's time to reciprocate. Tickets are $12 pre-sale, and $15 at the door. Call Sue at 661-946-2201 or www.AVQA.org

BLOCK OF THE MONTH
SAMPLER QUILT
FOR BEGINNING QUILTERS
Taught by Lynn Crawford

Interested in learning how to quilt? Need to learn new techniques? This year-long class (meets one evening per month) covers wide range of techniques, including quick-cutting, half-square triangles, quarter-square triangles, flying geese, etc..

The cost is $20 a class. Location? I am looking for someone in Wrightwood willing to host this evening class in their home. Needs to have enough sewing space for 6-8 people. In exchange, your will receive all classes free. If is a one year commitment. Please contact me if you are interest in hosting this. Also please contact me if you are interested in taking the class.

Marlene Bowman is happy to be ready for April Showers.

Flo Souza finished this as charity quilt from the quilt kits prepared by the guild.

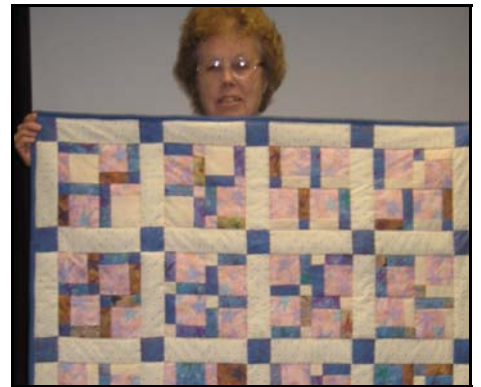

Flo finished this day brightener in a class at Desert Winds Quilt Guild .

Marlene DeJongh's Monday morning group each did one row of this for National Quilt Day. Amazing.

Someone behind this quilt finished it in two hours. Cute fabric.

Corrine Baker did this charity quilt with a lot of imaginative fabric arrangement.

Charlotte Ketcheside and Kimberly Small each finished this Over the River and Through the Woods.

Charlotte also did this pattern of cut and rearranged fabric from Joy's pattern, ready for Christmas.

Beth can't remember why she wanted to do a miniature quilt, but it is a stunner!

Another delicately pieced quilt from Beth Stanton in her favorite colors.

Beth also is taking a bow for this lovely ballerina from a technique from Pat Blair.

Marion Hall restored this amazing 1953 quilt by carefully soaking it in Orvis. Its dense hand quilting was 12 stitches/inch!

New member Giselda shows off her very first quilt, made for her grandson. Stellar!

Linda Rhoades is showing off a happy child's quilt.

Harriet McClothlin is in Kaiser Hospital, but that won't stop her Wilbur and Charlotte from going to the Fair.

Alice Smith finished this Debbie Caffrey mystery quilt at Cozy Quilting.

This is Rose's recuperation quilt—nice recovery!

Mel Bunge is giving this quilt away—either to the auction or the school secretary. Lucky for whomever gets it.

Mel is dreaming of Hawaii—mahalo!

Finished from Cathy Miller's Reverse Applique class by Mel.

Kimberly Small matched Charlotte's quilt with one of her own.
