Taking Inspiration From Her Surroundings

Walking through forest, listening to water flowing over stones in a stream, sitting under a tree in a garden, Cindy Rinne takes inspiration for her collage quilts from what she observes going on around her. In her lecture, “Solitude...Where Ideas Begin,” presented at the June general meeting, Cindy explained that making a habit of observing the small things such as the frost on a leaf in the path or the shimmer of light on the water, helps to focus her thoughts and quiet her mind which in turn fuels her creativity.

Her designs often develop from a thought that begins in one of those moments of solitude that she then expands on as she works through a piece. She is often inspired to write poetry which she also incorporates into the work

She is a multi-media artist so incorporates many materials and

July Potluck Picnic at the Wrightwood Country Club

Join the guild for the annual potluck picnic dinner which will be held again at the Wrightwood Country Club, 1387 Oriole Road, beginning at 6pm on July 9. Everyone should bring their favorite dish to share. Water, plates and utensils will be provided.

Guild members, Linda Rhoades and Marlene DeJongh are the featured speakers and will present mini trunk shows of their work.

Lynn Crawford and present proposed bylaw changes which are intended to make it possible for the guild to register as non-profit.

Directions: From Highway 2, turn south at Willow which is the intersection with the stop sign at the Post Office. Willow ends at the Wrightwood Country Club. Go slightly to the left to park in the lot, then proceed on up to the Club House. The gate should be open.

Show & Tell

Library Highlights

Farm Girl Quilts: The popular "Joined at the Hip" design team brings a fresh new palette to this quilt collection. See what can be done when a few lighter and brighter colors are splashed on country-style quilts.

- Get back to the land with 12 beautiful patchwork and applique designs inspired by the Iowa farms where the authors grew up.
- Create projects ranging from table runners to wall quilts, lap quilts, and bed quilts.
- Read appealing descriptions of life in the country and discover stories in the quilts themselves.

Quick Rotary Cutter Quilts: Today's lifestyle generally does not allow us the precious time we'd like to spend on quilting. But with the speedy techniques in this book, we can save time and get the quality results our grandmothers expected. You'll find a variety of designs to make quilts for every room in your house- bed quilts for young and old, wall hangings, holiday projects, baby quilts, pillow, shams, and tablecloths. Whichever project you choose, the author hopes to make your quilting a faster, more rewarding experience with projects that you will be proud to give as gifts or treasure for years to come.

Bits and Pieces

Christmas Quilt Blocks Due

Alice Smith would like to remind everyone to return finished Christmas blocks to her or to Christy Close as soon as possible so that they can finish assembly and quilting in time for the holiday season.

Opportunity Quilt Tickets

Turn in proceeds from opportunity quilt ticket sales to Marlene Bowman or Kim Ogilvie. If you have an event or venue (like work) that you can display the quilt and sell tickets, contact Marlene to schedule and to pick-up the quilt, stand and extra tickets.

Library Totes Extended Check-Out Period

Darlene Packard-Mossman reports that five totes were checked out in June and due to the July meeting location logistics, those totes are due to be returned at the August meeting. The lucky members have a full two months to savor all the amazing, creative, and informative contents contained within the pages of the up to twenty-three books packed in each tote.
