President's Message

Dear Quilters:

To say the least it has been a very exciting month and very stressful with the Blue Cut Fire. It also helps you know what is important to you, some paper work, family pictures and of course your quilts, (your family and animals also). Your quilts are your works of art, the time and love that go into them cannot always be replaced. We will be working on making some quilts for those affected by the Blue Cut Fire at the Guild Retreat at Camp Mariastella this October 21st-23rd.

There is a change in the program for our speakers, Ann Turley will be presenting a trunk show this month and Carrie Fendi will be presenting at the October 11th meeting. The workshop will be on Thursday, October 13th for her Hawaiian applique.

WE NEED 2 MORE HOUSES for the Home Tour, please, please ask around to see if anyone would help us out.

I will not be here at our meeting, this month, but please enjoy the speaker. See you next month.

Happy Quilting,

Elisa Gurley, PNQG President

Last Month's Meeting

Last month Grace Errea, presented the "Value of Value".

September 13th Meeting

Ann Turley – Trunk Show

Everyone wants to see quilts, quilts and more quilts, and this program won't disappoint. I also have many fun and interesting stories to tell along the way.

My work is created from a restless desire to express myself in texture and image, I am excited when faced with unusual scenarios and will often use them as a jumping-off point for my latest project. I do my best work when I have only a loose idea of where I'm going.

I have been teaching and lecturing for quilt guilds for over ten years, and my training as a judge has served me well. I have had the privilege of judging many guild shows, regional shows and several county fairs.
