

TO BUILD FOR OUR FUTURE WE MUST LEARN FROM OUR PAST

John Suzuki is the author of the new book, American Grit – From a Japanese American Concentration Camp Rises an American War Hero. John is a professional speaker who loves to teach and inspire his audiences in direct, heartfelt and insightful ways. He is also the host of his podcast launching this fall called “Finding Better” with each episode providing a weekly dose of encouragement, inspiration and a little bit of love.

STORY IDEAS

- The crime of the century: How 50,000 American children were jailed for their race
- Superheroes of the American concentration camps
- 122,000 people incarcerated for looking guilty
- The day the Constitution broke
- The secret to our future: Less fear, more love
- American Grit: How the most hated Americans defeated America’s enemies
- The dangers of a broken country: The divisiveness and bucketizing of America
- Epic Teamwork: How the most decorated war unit in U. S. history almost didn’t exist
- “We don’t cut Jap hair:” The aftermath of WWII
- American concentration camps are in our future. What we must do to stop them

Appeared on New Day Northwest in Seattle on July 12, 2023

CONTACT JOHN

WWW.JHNSUZUKI.COM

Availability Nationwide