Section 5: Allergies

Are you looking to purchase a Samoyed because you were told that they are hypoallergenic?

If yes, unfortunately that information is not exactly correct. No dog is really hypoallergenic as they can pick up dander from other pets and carry it into your home. The Samoyed is a double coated breed which helps keep the dander close to their body. However when it becomes time to blow that gorgeous undercoat the phrase "Let it Snow" comes to mind.

There are many ways to manage the amount of dander you are exposed to, but it is not fool proof. When it comes to pet allergies we can work with your allergist to determine if this is the right breed for you.

Is anyone in your home specifically allergic to dogs (please be truthful)?

YES: [ ] or NO: [ ]

If yes, how is this going to be managed? _____
