Our shows are dedicated to the memory of Liz Ladd Baldwin

Elizabeth Ann "Liz" Ladd Baldwin
September 2, 1958 - February 25, 2022

Liz began her life in New York on September 2, 1958. She found her way to Texas as quickly as she could, arriving sometime in the 1980's, in Amarillo. She eventually settled in Canyon, TX with the love of her life, Ken Baldwin, who preceded her in death.

Liz was a Registered Nurse and Realtor by trade.

Liz was the most colorful storyteller you would ever meet. You would laugh until your sides hurt when she would tell a story or explain a predicament she had encountered. She once shared a story about one of the cats knocking over things in the kitchen in the middle of the night, which startled her. As she is retelling it she says, "I thought I was being marauded!" That was her, hysterical. No one could make us laugh like she could. She had no fear of self-deprecation and it made us love her all the more.

She dedicated her life to animals and to sharing her life with them. For many years, she participated in cross-country riding with her horses. In later years, she immensely enjoyed carriage driving.

Liz fell in love with GSD's very early on and they always held a special place in her heart. She was a longtime breeder of Schipperkes. She enjoyed many accomplishments including producing multiple champions and group winners, within the breed, under the kennel name Aladdin. Conformation, Agility and Lure Coursing were just a few things she competed in with her Schips. The more she could train for and compete in with her dogs, the better. They were her joy.

Her Belgian Shepherds, including Percy, Petra and Charter, just to name a few, were a source of great joy and great pride for her and rightfully so. She worked incredibly hard training them and competing with them in Conformation, Agility, Herding, Lure Coursing, Dock Diving, Scent Work and Barn Hunt are just a sampling of the events she enjoyed with her Belgians. She was extremely successful in doing so.

Much of this was accomplished while undergoing cancer treatments so she could live fully until her health prevented her from doing so. – Not a moment before.

With her New York upbringing, you always knew where you stood with her. The woman had no filter. However, you would not find a better friend. She was always there when you needed her or when a dog was in need.

She was passionate about the breeds close to her heart and the clubs associated with them. Liz served multiple terms on the Board of Directors of the Schipperke Club of America. She was no deadwood chair filler either. She was active and willing to tackle issues in order to better the club or move it forward. She truly cared.

AKC BREED STANDARD FOR THE SCHIPPERKE

General Appearance

The Schipperke is an agile, active watchdog and hunter of vermin. In appearance he is a small, thickset, cobby, black, tailless dog, with a fox-like face. The dog is square in profile and possesses a distinctive coat, which includes a stand-out ruff, cape and culottes. All of these create a unique silhouette, appearing to slope from shoulders to croup. Males are decidedly masculine without coarseness. Bitches are decidedly feminine without over refinement.

Any deviation from the ideal described in the standard should be penalized to the extent of the deviation. Faults common to all breeds are as undesirable in the Schipperke as in any other breed, even though such faults may not be specifically mentioned in the standard.

Size, Proportion, Substance

Size--The suggested height at the highest point of the withers is 11-13 inches for males and 10-12 inches for bitches. Quality should always take precedence over size. Proportion--Square in profile. Substance--Thickset.

Head

Expression--The expression is questioning, mischievous, impudent and alert, but never mean or wild. The well proportioned head, accompanied by the correct eyes and ears, will give the dog proper Schipperke expression.

Skull--The skull is of medium width, narrowing toward the muzzle. Seen in profile with the ears laid back, the skull is slightly rounded. The upper jaw is moderately filled in under the eyes, so that, when viewed from above, the head forms a wedge tapering smoothly from the back of the skull to the tip of the nose. The stop is definite but not prominent. The length of the muzzle is slightly less than the length of the skull.

Eyes--The ideal eyes are small, oval rather than round, dark brown, and placed forward on the head.

Ears--The ears are small, triangular, placed high on the head, and, when at attention, very erect. A drop ear or ears is a disqualification.

Nose--The nose is small and black.

Bite--The bite must be scissors or level. Any deviation is to be severely penalized.

Neck, Topline, Body

Neck--The neck is of moderate length, slightly arched and in balance with the rest of the dog to give the correct silhouette. Topline--The topline is level or sloping slightly from the withers to the croup. The stand-out ruff adds to the slope, making the dog seem slightly higher at the shoulders than at the rump. Body--The chest is broad and deep, and reaches to the elbows. The well sprung ribs (modified oval) are wide behind the shoulders and taper to the sternum. The forechest extends in front of the shoulders between the front legs. The loin is short, muscular and moderately drawn up. The croup is broad and well-rounded with the tail docked. No tail is visually discernible.

Forequarters

The shoulders are well laid back, with the legs extending straight down from the body when viewed from the front. From the side, legs are placed well under the body. Pasterns are short, thick and strong, but still flexible, showing a slight angle when viewed from the side. Dewclaws are generally removed. Feet are small, round and tight. Nails are short, strong and black.

Hindquarters

The hindquarters appear slightly lighter than the forequarters, but are well muscled, and in balance with the front. The hocks are well let down and the stifles are well bent. Extreme angulation is to be penalized. From the rear, the legs extend straight down from the hip through the hock to the feet. Dewclaws must be removed.

Coat

Pattern—The adult coat is highly characteristic and must include several distinct lengths growing naturally in a specific pattern. The coat is short on the face, ears, front of the forelegs and on the hocks; it is medium length on the body, and longer in the ruff, cape, jabot and culottes. The ruff begins in back of the ears and extends completely around the neck; the cape forms an additional distinct layer extending beyond the ruff; the jabot extends across the chest and down between the front legs. The hair down the middle of the back, starting just behind the cape and continuing over the rump, lies flat. It is slightly shorter than the cape but longer than the hair on the sides of the body and sides of the legs. The coat on the rear of the thighs forms culottes, which should be as long as the ruff. Lack of differentiation in coat lengths should be heavily penalized, as it is an essential breed characteristic.

Texture—The coat is abundant, straight and slightly harsh to the touch. The softer undercoat is dense and short on the body and is very dense around the neck, making the ruff stand out. Silky coats, body coats over three inches in length or very short harsh coats are equally incorrect.

Trimming—As the Schipperke is a natural breed, only trimming of the whiskers and the hair between the pads of the feet is optional. Any other trimming must not be done.

Color

The outer coat must be black. Any color other than a natural black is a disqualification. The undercoat, however, may be slightly lighter. During the shedding period, the coat might take on a transitory reddish cast, which is to be penalized to the degree that it detracts from the overall black appearance of the dog. Graying due to age (seven years or older) or occasional white hairs should not be penalized.

Gait

Proper Schipperke movement is a smooth, well coordinated and graceful trot (basically double tracking at a moderate speed), with a tendency to gradually converge toward the center of balance beneath the dog as speed increases. Front and rear must be in perfect balance with good reach in front and drive in the rear. The topline remains level or slightly sloping downward from the shoulders to the rump. Viewed from the front, the elbows remain close to the body. The legs form a straight line from the shoulders through the elbows to the toes, with the feet pointing straight ahead. From the rear, the legs form a straight line from the hip through the hocks to the pads, with the feet pointing straight ahead.

Temperament

The Schipperke is curious, interested in everything around him, and is an excellent and faithful little watchdog. He is reserved with strangers and ready to protect his family and property if necessary. He displays a confident and independent personality, reflecting the breed's original purpose as watchdog and hunter of vermin.

Disqualifications

A drop ear or ears.

Any color other than a natural black.

Approved November 13, 1990; Effective January 1, 1991
