

Remote Learning Plan for 7th Grade March 18 - March 20, 2020

Greetings, parents and students!

Hope you're all doing well and staying healthy!

Students, with all of my assignments, please, take your time, read things more than once, and do your best! Contact me with questions through email sdean@stadalbertschool.org or Google Classroom.

	Wednesday	Friday
Reading	You have already read chapters 9-12 of Al Capone Does My Shirts. Respond to the following prompts in the "literature" section of your notebook or on a doc in Google Classroom: 1. Reread pages 56-58. Find two examples of figurative language (simile, metaphor, personification). List each example with its page number. Then explain what the figurative language means. 2. Read the excerpt below from page 74. Explain what Piper's dad means. (Think -- How persuasive is he? Explain the language that the author uses.) "My dad says Weasel could convince the hens they're better off with a fox in charge. And then persuade the jury it was in the chickens' best interest to be eaten"(p.74).	Read chapters 13-16 and respond to the questions (in your notebook or on a doc in Google Classroom) below: 1. On page 82, what evidence is there to show that Moose knows Natalie values her buttons? Explain. (Remember to use quotation marks when you quote directly from the text.) 2. What kind of relationship does Moose have with his sister Natalie? Use text evidence with page numbers in your answer. You must explain how the text evidence supports your inference about their relationship. Review your notes on misplaced and dangling modifiers from last week and from earlier in the year (20 minutes).

		EXTRA: If you have access, complete IXL KK.2 (select the misplaced or dangling modifier).
Math - Mr. Miles	Review our unit on statistics, sampling, and inferences by completing the concept and skills review on p. 346-348. Use your handouts and the review column to help you. Use your school email to access Google Classroom and join our math class. Take the “Remote Learning Survey.” If you are unable to access this survey do not worry! Instead, send me an email: amiles@stadalbertschool.org If you can’t do either, don’t worry, we’ll be in touch soon!	Fridays are for equations and inequalities! Work on pages 271-272 in your textbook. Then, spend five minutes trying to teach someone in your house how to solve a one-step equation (even if they already know how!).
Math - Mrs. Probst	Hello my math people! Hope you’re all enjoying a couple more hours of sleep.:) For this week, continue the Scale up candy project. After you have expanded the candy bar to the scale on the sheet you were given, including the lettering, color it the same colors as the original candy bar wrapper. If you have questions, feel free to email me lprobst@stadalbertschool.org	For today, the assignment is in your book. Complete the fluency practice on page 305. Please let me know if you are able to access Google classroom from home. I have invited you to join and would like to be able to post assignments if you can. If you are not able to, let me know by email. Stay healthy and have a great weekend!
Other	SSR: Read for 30 minutes. Then, write 3-5 sentences that summarizes what is happening in your book. Science: read p. 516-518 in your textbook. Then, write a paragraph in your notebook that compares and contrasts “diffusion” and “active	Religion: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Read John 9:1-41 with your family. 2) Talk as a family about the reading. When has God opened your eyes? In what way do your eyes need to be opened? 3) Pray a decade of the rosary together. Thank Jesus for the
