If you did not receive any reportable gift, then check "NONE."
- Block 12 TRANSPORTATION, LODGING OR HOSPITALITY EXPENSES: List the name and address of each source and the amount of each payment/reimbursement by the source for transportation, lodging or hospitality that you received in connection with your public position if the aggregate amount of such payments/reimbursements by the source exceeds $650 for the calendar year for which you are reporting. If you did not transfer any such business interest, then check "NONE."
- Signature Sign the form and enter the current date. Back dating the form is a violation of law and could result in the initiation of civil, administrative and/or criminal penalties.

The Commission has long held that the receipt of things of value, such as gifts, transportation, lodging and hospitality from vendors, those regulated, and others, may form the basis for a conflict of interest under Section 1103(a) of the Ethics Act.

COMPREHENSIVE PLANNING COMMITTEE

ACTION ITEM: South Whitehall Township – Land Use of Regional Significance – Project Atlas Data Center Campus

Ms. Seitz presented the staff review of the proposed Atlas Industrial data center in South Whitehall Township. First, Ms. Seitz provided background on the legal framework of land-use decisions in Pennsylvania, to help educate the commissioners and members of the public attending the meeting. Then, Ms. Seitz summarized the discussion and letter amendment decided upon at the 1/20/26 LVPC Comprehensive Planning Committee meeting, as well as outlined the potential community impacts from the proposal to be mitigated.

Chair Morgan called for a motion to accept the staff review. Commissioner Glickman made the motion, and Commissioner Repasch seconded the motion. Chair Morgan asked for any comments or questions.

Dave Manhardt thanked LVPC and public for participating. He described how the Township is incorporating comments from the LVPC and public into their review.

Commissioner Amato thanked Ms. Seitz for the legal overview. He gave scale reference for size of building and commended the comment letter provided from the public.

Katy Howe commented on local air quality issues from generators and emphasized importance of the proposal being next to Parkland High School. She expressed concerns about the proposal's impacts on potable water supply as well.

Commissioner Charles Elliott asked about the vehicle trips estimated to be generated and felt like it's high. Jill explained that it's a new land use, and engineers want to be conservative with traffic estimates.

Commissioner Glickman commented that the LVPC should change language away from calling agricultural land as vacant and unused in future reviews.

Jill Schneider asked for the data center to use renewable energy and mitigate impacts to energy costs and drinking water.

Luther Edinger asked if developer has planned for solar on roof area, and how data gets to the center. Ms. Seitz explained that the applicant is working with PPL and that the Heating and Air Conditioning units needed on the roof of the building may restrict solar capacity.

Carla Lindenmuth requested the LVPC to recommend the proposal to be denied by Township. She asked for land to remain as open space.

Joel Gilley commented on the environmental ramifications of the proposal's location.

Dwight Adam expressed concern about noise levels from the data center and the effect on Parkland High School and water usage.

Nicole Dunbar asked about the timeline of proposed project and expressed concern about energy issues. She also asked if Atlas Industries is examining other sites. Dave Manhardt responded and explained the process of edits to the proposal.

Yvette Kuhns expressed concerns about energy and water usage, particularly for people who rely on well water. She also expressed concern about worsened air quality issues.

Taylor Laney commented that she believes that the proposal goes against multiple tenants of FutureLV. Ms. Bradley provided additional context about the role of the LVPC in the land development process.

Katy Howe provided additional context on energy usage of the proposal and health concerns.

Greg Sussman questioned the choice of generators proposed.

Commissioner Charles Elliott commended the public's comments and expressed concern about low frequency waves from site, particularly at the high school.

Vice Chair Moritz-Chapelliquen thanked everyone for coming and highlighted Policy 5.4 and considered adding language to highlight proposal's potential inconsistencies with the Policy. Vice Chair Moritz-Chapelliquen and other commissioners ultimately decided against adding further language in the LVPC review letter.

Taylor Laney commented that her interpretation is that the proposal is not consistent with certain aspects of FutureLV.

Dave Manhardt commented that the guidance from the LVPC and the public is helping them develop additional questions for the applicant.

Commissioner Melnick appreciated the comments in the letter.

Commissioner Charles Elliott asked about what circumstances require the proposal to come back to the LVPC. Ms. Seitz said if there's a 10% or greater change in the site plan.

Chair Morgan called for affirmative votes to accept the staff comments. The motion passed.

ACTION ITEM: Comprehensive Planning Committee Summary Sheet

Comprehensive Planning Committee Chair Melnick briefed the Commission on the Comprehensive Committee Summary Sheet that featured zoning ordinance amendments regarding data centers in both Upper Saucon Township and North Whitehall Township.

Re: SSDLIA Modular Building – Midway Manor Elementary
City of Allentown
Lehigh County

Dear Ms. Gomez,

The subject application is considered a Land Use of Regional Significance, as 'All' Education Facilities are considered land uses of regional significance in FutureLV: The Regional Plan (page 137). The Lehigh Valley Planning Commission (LVPC) will consider the subject application at its Comprehensive Planning Committee and Full Commission meetings, per requirements of the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code (MPC). Discussion on agenda items largely happens during the Committee meeting. Meeting participation details are below, and we encourage your participation.

LVPC Comprehensive Planning Committee Meeting: February 24, 2026, at 12:00 PM (Virtual) https://lvpc.org/lvpc-meetings	LVPC Full Commission Meeting: February 26, 2026, at 7:00 PM (Virtual) https://lvpc.org/lvpc-meetings

The application proposes to demolish an existing 1,600 square foot, two-classroom modular building and an existing maintenance building. A new 9,856 square-foot, ten-classroom modular building will be constructed along with perimeter ADA ramps and driveway crossover reconstruction at 1103 N Tacoma Street (Parcel Identification Number 641830544726).

The project supports the goal of FutureLV: The Regional Plan to enhance economic growth by investing in improvements to educational facilities and 'increasing social and economic access to daily needs for all people' (of Policies 4.1 and 5.2).

The plan proposes to plant an additional 23 shade trees along the perimeter of the property, which 'improves access to green spaces', 'promotes street trees', and 'strengthens sidewalk infrastructure' (of Policy 5.3).

The LVPC recommends including a bicycle rack in the development plans. Including parking for bicycles supports a safe, healthy, inclusive and livable community (FutureLV Goal 5) and ensures transportation accessibility for all persons (of Policy 5.2).

Approximate Building Location -- Google Aerial View of Site

The LVPC encourages the developer to consider opportunities to incorporate sustainable energy systems that reduce overhead operational costs and 'minimize environmental impacts of development' (of Policy 3.1), such as geothermal energy systems, solar panels, and greywater reuse for irrigation and plumbing.

Municipalities, when considering subdivision/land developments, should reasonably attempt to be consistent with FutureLV: The Regional Plan, as required by the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code (MPC) [Article 1§105, Article III§303, §304 & §306(a), Article VI§603(j)]. The LVPC review does not include an in-depth examination of plans relative to subdivision design standards or ordinance requirements since these items are covered in the municipal review.

Sincerely,

Mary Grace Collins

Re: Lehigh University – East Hill Residence Hall
City of Bethlehem
Northampton County

Dear Mr. Peiffer,

The subject application is considered a Land Use of Regional Significance, as 'All' Education Facilities are considered land uses of regional significance in FutureLV: The Regional Plan (page 137). The Lehigh Valley Planning Commission (LVPC) considered the subject application at its Comprehensive Planning Committee and Full Commission meetings, pursuant to the requirements of the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code (MPC). Discussion on agenda items largely happens during the Committee meeting. Meeting participation details are below:

LVPC Comprehensive Planning Committee Meeting: February 24, 2026, at 12:00 PM (Virtual) https://lvpc.org/lvpc-meetings	LVPC Full Commission Meeting: February 26, 2026, at 7:00 PM (Virtual) https://lvpc.org/lvpc-meetings

The application proposes the construction of a new residence hall on the Asa Packer Campus of Lehigh University that will contain 265 dwelling units to house first-year students. Additional features include a green roof for the building, new sidewalks, widening of existing sidewalks, intersection improvements at Sayre and University Drive, and the removal of existing street parking to convert a section of University Drive to two-way circulation.

Overall, the proposal supports the goal of FutureLV: The Regional Plan to 'expand access to education' and provide a variety of housing types that maximize social and economic opportunities (of Policies 4.1 and 4.5).

Approximate Project Location via Google Aerial View

Transportation

The project includes a number of improvements that improve walkability, pedestrian safety, and traffic circulation. Road widening and sidewalks are proposed from the intersection of Sayre Drive and University Drive to the intersection of University Drive, Taylor Street, and Quad Drive. Crosswalks will also be constructed at each intersection, ‘promoting safe and secure community design’ (of Policy 5.1).

Existing parking spaces on University Drive and Dravo Drive will be removed to facilitate the expansion to accommodate two-way traffic. Removing parking, creating crosswalks, and adding sidewalks protects pedestrians when in road-user areas. The inclusion of bicycle racks and a sheltered bus station improves multimodal transit for students, ‘integrating mixed-transportation into public space design’ and ‘ensuring transportation accessibility’ for first year students who may not have a vehicle on campus (of Policy 5.2).

Environment

In FutureLV: The Regional Plan, the LVPC identifies the project area as being within a Medium Priority Natural Resource Conservation Priority Area. These areas contain a mix of important natural features, such as woodlands, critical habitats, and steep slopes. The proposed tree plan provides a net increase to the amount of trees on the site, bringing the total number of trees over 8” from 102 to 118, promoting ‘sustainable stewardship of natural lands’ (of Policy 3.3). To complement these efforts, the LVPC recommends that the landscaping associated with the project use ‘native, climate-adaptive and carbon-sequestering’ species (of Policy 3.4).

The lot is situated on a steep slope of 15%-25%. The LVPC recommends that special erosion and storm drain controls be enforced to ‘minimize environmental impacts of development to protect the health, safety and welfare of the public’ (of Policy 3.2).

The project site is located within the Catasauqua Creek watershed. This watershed has a fully implemented Act 167 Stormwater Management Ordinance. Comments related to our review of the project’s stormwater management plan are included as attachment 1.

The inclusion of a green roof supports sustainable building and site design (of Policy 3.4). To further reduce overhead operational costs and ‘minimize environmental impacts of development’ (of Policy 3.2), the LVPC encourages the developer to consider opportunities to pursue sustainable building practices such as LEED certification, solar panels, and/or greywater reuse for irrigation and plumbing.

Municipalities, when considering subdivision/land developments, should reasonably attempt to be consistent with FutureLV: The Regional Plan, as required by the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code (MPC) [Article 1§105, Article III§303, §304 & §306(a), Article VI§603(j)]. The LVPC review does not include an in-depth examination of plans relative to subdivision design standards or ordinance requirements since these items are covered in the municipal review.

Pennsylvania Wins Bid for Eli Lilly Weight-Loss Drug Factory

The region is attempting to build on its status as a manufacturing hub with bigger investments and more tax perks for corporate investors

By Te-Ping Chen

A rendering of Eli Lilly's planned new manufacturing facility in Fogelsville, Pa. Lilly

Drug giant Eli Lilly LLY 3.20%increase; green up pointing triangle said it plans to open a $3.5 billion plant in Pennsylvania's Lehigh Valley, giving the region an economic shot in the arm and helping solidify its ambitions as a manufacturing hub.

The facility, which will produce weight-loss drugs, will be built in Fogelsville, about 60 miles northwest of Philadelphia. The state is investing $100 million into the project, including in tax credits and grant money, to help prepare the site for construction. Lilly said the investment will create 850 permanent jobs over the next five years as the manufacturing facility ramps up, as well as 2,000 construction jobs.

The Lehigh Valley represents a rare Rust Belt success story. Once home to Bethlehem Steel, which filed for bankruptcy in 2001, the region has continued to expand its manufacturing base, helped by its proximity to ports in New York and New Jersey. It also has sizable employers in healthcare, finance and manufacturing that make everything from medical devices to art supplies. Crayola has called the area home since the early 1900s, when it first started producing crayons.

“Our industrial district took a huge hit, but it never died,” said Becky Bradley, executive director of the Lehigh Valley Planning Commission. In recent years, she said, local manufacturing has also been boosted by the growth of the logistics and warehousing industry, which mushroomed after Hurricane Sandy devastated coastal regions in 2012, spurring companies to seek inland alternatives.

All told, Lehigh Valley manufacturing jobs have grown by 28.8% since 2010, triple the national rate, according to the Lehigh Valley Economic Development Corporation. Overall U.S. manufacturing jobs have contracted in recent months, even as the Trump administration has tried to shore up domestic production. U.S. manufacturers shed around 8,000 jobs in December, according to federal data, marking eight straight months of losses since Trump announced sweeping tariffs in April.

The Lilly deal is an important one for the region. It has long been passed over when competing for such projects, said Don Cunningham, who heads the local development group. In previous years, he said, the Lehigh Valley would find itself outbid by contenders in states that tacked on corporate incentives and were quicker to speed construction.

Cunningham credits Pennsylvania Gov. Josh Shapiro, who took office in 2023, for moving to more aggressively court business and speed permitting. According to the Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development, since 2023, companies have committed to spending more than $39 billion on new investments in Pennsylvania, including $20 billion Amazon announced last year it was spending on building data centers.

In addition to the $100 million in incentives that Pennsylvania is offering Lilly, it has also pledged up to $5 million for a pharmaceutical manufacturing training center at a local school to create a pipeline of future workers.

A decade ago, some vocational programs were lacking students, he said. Now, though, as students take a hard look at their options, they are at capacity, and in some cases expanding.

“My father was a steelworker at Bethlehem Steel. When he came out of high school, it was just about having a strong work ethic and a strong back,” he said. By contrast, today’s manufacturing environments are much cleaner, often requiring high levels of skill, he said.

Lilly has ramped up its investments in domestic manufacturing, including a February 2025 commitment to spend $27 billion on new manufacturing facilities. In addition to Pennsylvania, previously announced locations include sites in Alabama, Texas and Virginia. Since 2020, Lilly has committed $50 billion to building such capacity, a total that includes today’s announcement.

Other large drugmakers have also worked to expand their U.S. production capabilities, partly to try to mitigate against the risk of tariffs, as well as the kinds of cross-border disruptions companies experienced during the pandemic.

The plant is expected to begin construction this year and become operational in 2031.

It would make Lilly’s next-generation weight-loss drug, if it is approved. The drug, called retatrutide, is in testing. It could ring up $11 billion in peak yearly sales, analysts project.

FROM: Matt Assad, Managing Editor

REGARDING: Public Engagement, Education and Grants

Public Engagement

The most recent Plan Lehigh Valley National Public Radio show, which aired at 6:30 pm, February 2 on WDIY radio 88.1 FM, took a look ahead at what will be a very active 2026. Co-hosts Becky Bradley and Matt Assad discussed nearly a dozen major projects that includes a housing supply plan, a long-term vision for Route 22, a four-year Transportation Improvement Program and the update to FutureLV: The Regional Plan. The podcast is now streaming at www.wdiy.org/show/plan-lehigh-valley and www.lvpc.org/newsly. The next Plan Lehigh Valley show will air Monday, March 2 at 6:30 pm.

The latest Morning Call Business Cycle Column published Sunday, February 8, and it focused on how the pace of the Lehigh Valley’s growth will not be slowing anytime soon. In the column, Becky summarized nine projects being worked on in 2026, including the next steps of re-establishing passenger rail, a long-term strategy for Route 22, a stormwater management plan for all 15 Lehigh Valley watersheds and a new congestion management plan for the region’s busiest roadways. The column is available at www.lvpc.org/newsly and mcall.com. The next column in the Morning Call will publish on Sunday, March 24.

Educational Opportunities

The following Lehigh Valley Government Academy (LVGA), Local Technical Assistance Program (LTAP) Classes will be held virtually:

Asphalt Preservation Tool – Cape Seal

What: Explore the benefits of Cape Seal, a powerful combination of chip seal and slurry or micro surfacing, designed to deliver enhanced durability and improved surface quality. This drop-in will guide you through the mechanics, applications, and advantages of Cape Seal as a versatile preservation strategy for aging pavements.

Presented by pavement preservation specialists, this session will cover:

- What Cape Seal is and how it works
- Ideal use cases and pavement conditions
- Step-by-step application process
- Performance benefits and cost-effectiveness
- Real-world examples and project outcomes

Cape Seal offers the structural strength of chip seal with the smooth finish of slurry or micro surfacing—making it a smart choice for agencies looking to extend pavement life while improving ride quality and appearance.

When: Thursday, March 5, 11 am to noon

Traffic Calming

What: The purpose of this course is to provide municipalities with a basic understanding of traffic calming, including its benefits, issues, and functional implementation strategies. Participants will gain knowledge of various traffic calming measures, learn how to conduct studies to assess the need for traffic calming, and understand how to select and implement the most appropriate solutions for their communities. At the end of this course, attendees will be able to:

- Define what traffic calming is and explain the objectives of implementing it.
- Describe the purpose of traffic calming and summarize the steps involved in conducting a study for its assessment and implementation.
- Identify various traffic calming measures and how to apply them to reduce speeding and improve the safety of vulnerable road users in municipalities across Pennsylvania.

When: Friday, March 13, 8 am to 2:30 pm

All LVGA LTAP classes are free and are intended for municipalities, transportation non-profits and organizations with a transportation purpose. LTAP enables many practitioners who need courses with professional development hours (PDHs) to earn credits for maintaining their licenses and certificates.

Anyone can register at www.gis.penndot.gov/LTAP or by contacting Hannah Milagio at hmilagio@lvpc.org or 610-264-4544

THE MORNING CALL

Talking Business with Becky Bradley: Planning at full speed — a growing region's reality

State Sen. Nick Miller speaks during a news conference Thursday, Jan. 22, 2026, in Allentown announcing an investment in the next phase of the Route 22 expansion study. For The Morning Call

November 9, 2025 at 8:30 AM

I've become notorious for looking ahead and thinking, once we power through this busy period, things will ease up and we can stop sprinting so hard. Then the calendar doubles over laughing at me and I realize that's never happening. That largely describes 2025 turning to 2026.

Last year was a hyperactive year in which the LVPC and our sister organization, the Lehigh Valley Transportation Study, completed a four-county, two-state climate resiliency plan, reclassified all 8,235 Lehigh Valley roads, worked to develop a housing attainment strategy, developed an industrial land use guide communities can use to prepare for uses like data centers, created an electric vehicle charging prioritization plan, performed nearly 1,000 development-related reviews, gave planning and transportation training to nearly 400 people and created an employment and population forecast that will serve as a planning basis for virtually all aspects of life in the Lehigh Valley — just to list a few projects.

The “things will be easing up soon” thought came a lot, but I think it's time to embrace the idea that we're a growing region in which our community partners have a lot of needs as we evolve. That's certainly better than the alternative, where two-thirds of Pennsylvania counties are shrinking or have flatlined.

As I come to terms with the reality that this is the new normal, here's a list of upcoming projects we'll be tackling in 2026, including several that were started last year:

- Passenger rail: The Lehigh Valley Passenger Rail assessment began to chug forward in 2025 as state Sen. Nick Miller and former Lehigh County Executive Phillips Armstrong announced that $300,000 in state money would be added to $100,000 in county money to fund a Phase 2 study that is part a 14-step, 10-12-year process of trying to re-establish passenger rail service in the Lehigh Valley. In 2026 and 2027 we'll oversee the study that will identify an operator, determine the route — Northern New Jersey, Philadelphia or Reading — and begin to set goals, objectives and evaluation criteria for the system. The phase will take 12-16 months to complete.
- Housing strategy: The LVPC, Urban Land Institute and Lehigh County will complete and release The Lehigh Valley Housing Supply and Attainability Strategy in the spring. Northampton County, a planning partner, is rounding out the effort, along with all 62 local governments, school districts, nonprofit and private sector leaders charting a clear, multi-prong path forward to erase a 9,000-unit regionwide housing shortage. Everyone needs a home and the Housing Strategy will provide achievable ways of increasing housing for all income levels, and in locations that support the needs of everyone.
- E-plan: The Electronic Submission Portal is an essential resource for modernizing planning communication across the region. Plan review applicants will for the first time be able to submit projects online, and the portal will also be used for data requests, information sharing, grant consistency letters, and municipal ordinance and plan submissions. This helps the local governments, LANTA, state agency partners, sewer and water authorities, applicants and the Commission coordinate quickly and increase transparency and access to development, ordinances and plans.

- Route 22: Thanks to $1 million in funding arranged by Senator Miller and PennDOT Secretary Michael Carroll, in 2026 we'll be developing a Route 22 plan that will include identification and prioritization of needed improvements that prepare the region's most critical corridor for better congestion management, safety and mobility, while improving environmental quality and economic mobility. The Route 22: Mobility, Safety and Congestion Management Plan, also known as the "What to Do With 22 Plan," is due in December.
- Transportation Improvement Program (TIP): A four-year, $543 million investment portfolio for the next four federal fiscal years is being prepared. This TIP includes more than 100 road, bridge, trail and community projects in every corner of the Lehigh Valley. Congressionally directed funding to the region is the budget for projects like the Tilghman at Route 309 interchange, rehabilitation of the Hill-to-Hill bridge and supports LANTA capital investments. The plan takes effect Oct. 1.
- Congestion Management Plan: The LVPC is evaluating more than 300 road corridors, and applying a complex scoring system, to determine where investments should be made to reduce congestion across the regional transportation network. The analysis will help prioritize projects in the Lehigh Valley's 25-year, $4.4 billion Metropolitan Transportation Plan and four-year TIP.
- Safe Streets 4 All: With help from an $800,000 U.S. Department of Transportation grant, planning will focus on all 62 Lehigh Valley municipalities to identify projects for investment to address pedestrian, bicycle and vehicle safety. The program is designed to prevent injuries and fatalities, while promoting all modes of transportation.
- Focused Water Planning: The LVPC will continue the multi-year project of updating the Lehigh Valley's Act 167 Stormwater Management Plan for the 15 watersheds in Northampton and Lehigh counties. The project is the first time in the region and the largest initiative in the commonwealth to create a single, global plan that covers all watersheds, protecting water quality, while preventing flooding and property damage.
- FutureLV: The Regional Plan: In what will be an all-hands-on-deck approach, the LVPC will be building on the data and analysis work of 2025 to update FutureLV, the bi-county comprehensive plan and metropolitan transportation plan, designed to set the land use, environmental, community services, economic and transportation direction to carry the Lehigh Valley to 2050 and beyond. In addition, to beginning the single, common strategy for the region, it lays out the next 20 years of transportation investments. The plan will be released in 2027.

So no, things aren't slowing down. People, businesses, jobs, refined infrastructure management systems, preparation for new and emerging land use, and much more underpin why planning is more important than ever.

In the 250th year of this nation, it's important to reflect on what our own Benjamin Franklin embedded as a keystone of our national values: planning. Franklin famously observed, "By failing to prepare, you are preparing to fail." We certainly are preparing and will be prepared and our work ahead reflects a region that's growing, investing in itself to ensure long-term success. Sprinting may be the new normal, but at least we're running with purpose and in the right direction.

This is a contributed opinion column. Becky Bradley is executive director of the Lehigh Valley Planning Commission. She can be reached at planning@lvpc.org.
