Frequently Asked Questions

How do I know which program is right for my dog?

We start with a free phone consultation to learn about your dog, your goals, and your daily life. From there, we'll recommend the program that best fits your needs, whether that's private coaching, Board & Train, or a combination.

What happens during a Board & Train?

Your dog lives with us in a safe, structured environment. Each day includes:

-  Multiple training sessions
-  Enrichment and exercise
-  Rest time
-  Exposure to real-life situations

You'll receive daily updates (photos, videos, or texts) and a clear plan for maintaining your dog's progress when they return home.

Will my dog forget me during Board & Train?

No. Your dog will remember you and the bond you share. Board & Train helps create new, positive habits in a different environment, making it easier to transfer those skills back home.

What's included in the free transitional support after Board & Train?

Every Board & Train program includes 6 months of free support:

-  Follow-up training sessions (in-person or virtual)
-  Unlimited phone, text, and email coaching
-  Priority access to additional sessions if needed

This ensures you always have guidance as you settle into new routines.

What if I prefer to be more involved in the training?

Our Private Coaching Packages are perfect if you want to be hands-on. We'll meet weekly or bi-weekly in your home or out in the community, and you'll receive homework and support between sessions.

Do you offer payment plans?

Yes. We believe training should be accessible. Payment plans are available for all programs. Let us know, and we'll set up a schedule that works for you.

Is my dog too old or too young to train?

Dogs of all ages can learn. Puppies benefit from early guidance, while older dogs often surprise us with how quickly they pick up new skills. During your consultation, we'll tailor recommendations based on your dog's stage of life and needs.

What methods do you use?

We use science-based, humane training methods focused on calm, patient, and respectful guidance. Every plan is customized to the dog and handler. We never rely on intimidation or one-size-fits-all techniques.
