"All the News that fits on an official News Blast"

If you missed last month's Sat Chat, here's your chance to redeem yourself. C'mon--you know you want to. Just to whet your appetite, here's an artist's rendering of what all the cool kids looked like. You know--the ones who were lucky enough to be in the room where it happened.

Don't miss this month's Sat Chat. Saturday, March 28th, 10:30-noon o'clock at the Seaside Library. What will we talk about this time? That's classified. Show up and find out.

I.C.Y.M.I.

Don't know what that means? Ask your grandkids. Go ahead. We'll wait.

Good. So now you know how to say "In Case You Missed It" without typing all those pesky letters.

Far be it from us to instill guilt on the unfortunate souls who weren't at last week's epic monthly meeting featuring guest speaker (and Monterey County Poet Laureate) Marie Boucher. The S.R.O. crowd (there's another one you can look up) was treated to a pizza and appetizer feast graciously provided by CCW member Joe-Ming Cheng. He also brought a nice group of friends. Here's what the Center for Spiritual Awakening looked like.

...And

Be sure to set those alarms, calendars, and sun dials, for our April 21st meeting, when CSUMB instructor Kristen LaFollette will wow us all with her presentation on Oral History: A rich resource for writers.

And that concludes this special NB. We now return you to your regularly scheduled email already in progress.
