Notice Of The Caring Tree's Policies And Practices To Protect The Privacy Of Your Health Information

This notice describes how psychological and medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information. Please review it carefully. 1. Uses and disclosures for treatment, payment, and healthcare operations. The Caring Tree may use or disclose your protected health information ("PHI") for treatment and payment purposes without your informed consent or authorization. Other uses require authorization. Typically, we will ask for informed consent or authorization to communicate with other treatment providers in order for you to be aware of communication which may occur. To help clarify these terms here are some definitions: "PHI" refers to information in your health record that could identify you. "Treatment and payment" treatment is when the center provides, coordinates, or manages your health care and other services related to your health care. Example of treatment include: working with you directly on your goals, or consulting with another healthcare provider, such as your family physician or another psychologist. "Payment" is when we obtain reimbursement for your health care. Examples of payment or when we disclose your PHI to your health insurer to obtain reimbursement for your healthcare or to determine eligibility or coverage. "Use" applies only to activities within our clinic such as sharing, employing, applying, utilizing, examining, and analyzing information that identifies you. "Disclosure and "applies to activities outside my clinic such as releasing, transferring, or providing access to information about you to other parties. "Informed consent" and "authorization" are written forms that you sign permitting me to release specific information about you two specific recipients. 2. Uses and disclosures requiring authorization. We may use or disclose PHI for purposes outside of treatment and payment when your appropriate consent or authorization is obtained. In those instances we will obtain a Release of Information from you before releasing this information. We will also need to obtain an authorization before releasing your psychotherapy notes. "Psychotherapy notes" are notes we have made about our conversation during a private, group, joint, or family counseling session which are typically kept separate from the rest of your medical record. These notes are given a greater degree of protection than PHI. You may revoke an authorization at any time in the manner selected on the ROI form, or in writing. You may not revoke an authorization to the extent that 1. We have relied on that authorization; or 2. If the authorization was obtained as a condition of obtaining insurance coverage and the law provides the insurer the right to contest the claim under the policy. 3. Uses and disclosures with neither consent nor authorization. We may use or disclose PHI without your consent or authorization in the following circumstances: Serious threat to health or safety: if we have reason to believe using our professional care and skill that you may cause harm to yourself or another, we must warn the third-party and/or take steps to protect you. This may include contacting a third-party or may include instituting commitment proceedings. Child abuse: if we have reasonable cause to suspect that a child seen in the course of my professional duties has been abused or neglected, or have a reason to believe that he or she has been threatened with abuse or neglect him, and that abuse or neglect of the child will occur, we must report this to the relevant county department, child welfare agency, police, or sheriff's department. Adult and domestic abuse: If we believe that another person has been abused or neglected we may report such information to the relevant county department or state official of the long-term care ombudsman. Health oversight: If the Wisconsin Department of Health Services requests that we release records to them for or an investigation or audit, we must comply with such a request. Judicial or administrative proceedings: if the patient is involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information about his or her diagnosis and treatment in the records there of, such information is privileged under state law and we will not release the information without written authorization from the patient or his or her guardian or legally appointed representative, or a court order. The privilege does not apply when the patient is being evaluated for a third-party or where the evaluation is court ordered. You will be informed in advance if this is the case. Worker's Compensation: If a patient files a Worker's Compensation claim, we may be required to release records relevant to the claim to the patient's employer or its insurer and we may be required to testify. There may be additional disclosures of PHI that we are required or permitted by law to make without your consent or authorization, however the disclosures listed above are the most common. 4. Patient's Rights and Therapist's Duties. Right to Receive Confidential Communications by Alternative Means and At Alternative Locations – You have the right to request and receive confidential communications of PHI by alternative means and at alternative locations. For example, if you did not want a family member to know that you are being seen here we can send your bills to a different address. Right to Inspect and Copy – You have the right to inspect or obtain a copy of PHI in our mental health and billing records used to make decisions about you for as long as the PHI is maintained in the record. Right to Amend – you have the right to request an amendment of PHI for as long as the PHI is in the record. Your request may be denied. Right to Accounting – In most cases you have the right to receive an accounting of disclosures of PHI regarding you. Right to a Paper Copy – You have the right to obtain a paper copy of the notice upon request, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. Please contact tammyk@caringtreetree.us to find out how to request these. 5. Therapists Duties Regarding PHI: Therapists are required by law to maintain the privacy of PHI and to protect patients with a notice of his or her legal duties and privacy practices. The Caring Tree reserves the right to change the privacy policies and practices described in this notice and unless we notify you of such changes, we are required to abide by the terms currently in effect. If we revise the policies and procedures we will inform you at your next appointment. However, if the change is one that would affect your treatment or handling of your PHI prior to your next visit, you will be notified by mail. 6. Questions and Complaints If you have questions about this notice or disagree with a decision made about access to your records or if you have concerns about your privacy rights you may contact Trena Loomans at The Caring Tree, or at 715-301-0667. Patients can bring their concerns to the Clinic Manager or other staff members who may be able to answer your questions. If other staff members are unable to answer your questions, he or she may need to refer questions to the Clinical Supervisor Trena Loomans. If you believe that your privacy rights have been violated and wish to file a complaint with you may send your written complaint to 501 Division St., Wausau WI 54403. You may also send a written complaint to the Secretary of the US Department of Health and Human Services. The Caring Tree will not retaliate against a patient for exercising his or her right to file a complaint.

Patient Name _____ DOB _____
