Clucking all over the world

Thank you for sponsoring a chicken! You have helped train our elite Finley's Touch flying squad. Our brave birds have winged it around the globe with the A-list, helped save lives and had a cracking good time

ROMEING FREE
The street performers outside the Duomo really beaked our interest

The Daily Eggspress

WORKING AROUND THE CLUCK

IN BEAK CONDITION Our heroic chooks have been busy helping the NHS and saving lives – even though the salary's poultry

FLYING THE COOP You just won't believe the air miles our chickens have clocked up travelling the world, from the Colosseum to, er, Brighton

ONE FRENCH HEN After Paris, there was just one more world-famous landmark to see – the pub from All Creatures Great and Small!

EGG-CELLENT ADVENTURES

CHICK THIS OUT! The ladies are totally unflappable, and when it comes to driving heavy machinery they had a wheely great time

BEST OF CLUCK Chickens are not famed for their flying ability but we gave it a go on this plane anyway. After all, it is called a cockpit...

BEAKS AND TROUGHS The big slide at the Olympic Park was so *egg*citing – and as for this jailbird? Suffice to say it was fowl play...

THE PLOT CHICKENS Our girls are very cultured, you know. They'll shell out for the theatre and even the Royal Albert Hall, which doesn't come cheep

I'M A CEL-EGG-RITY Our humble hens are always happy to meet their fans, but if the demand for selfies gets too much, it's a case of: "That's all, yolks!"
