

JUST MY OPINION

Roger R. West

Someone asked me if I thought America was heading toward a civil war. I replied back, “No I do not believe we are headed toward a civil war, we are already in a civil war!” No, there have been no shots fired from weapons, however the opposition is continuously firing shots via the attempts by the socialist left to unseat the duly and legally sitting President of our country. Any attempt by any group to undermine a legitimate reining administration is a coup and should be treated as such.

If there is anyone that cannot clearly see what is happening in this country after the historical face to face meeting President Trump had with North Korea’s dictator Kim Jong-un, then shame on them. The commentary by the main-stream liberal media, the socialist Democratic Party and a few rogue Republicans tells the entire story very clearly. There is nothing President Trump does without condemnation from the anti-American left. President Trump could find a cure for cancer and he would be condemned for causing many doctors to lose their jobs.

Remember when Obama met with Cuba’s Dictator Raul Castro? All we saw was what a wonderful occurrence that was and Cuba was not even a threat to America. Now President Trump meets with Dictator Kim Jong-un, which was boasting just a few months ago that he had the capability to fire a nuclear warhead that could reach American soil, and this meeting was the worst thing ever. Why? Because it was President Trump! HBO host Bill Maher touted, “All the critics are saying, and they’re right, that nothing really came of this, it was two people, who lie about everything, who signed a deal that was specific about nothing. I would say it was a feckless stunt.”

Democrat Senator Chuck Schumer gave a speech on the Senate floor calling the summit what Texans call “all cattle, no hat,” mistaking the phrasing of the expression. Schumer went on to say, “The summit was more show than substance.”

Of course House Minority Leader Pelosi naturally condemned the summit as having accomplished nothing. Did they really think he could have a single face to face meeting with the likes of Kim Jung-un and walk out with every problem solved, in writing and guaranteed? What planet do these liberals live on? It’s as if they have no concept as to how negotiations are handled. There was no way on God’s green earth that this first summit was going to solve the decades of the North Korean atrocities and to think so is just plain stupid.

With that being said, the civil war rages on and our battlefield is the ballot box. Please don’t become complacent. This mid-term election is so important. Every true conservative American has to respond to the call to defend our Republic! We have to come out in droves and rid our country of as many liberal Democrats and rogue Republicans as we can this election cycle. Our country depends on you!

As always...that’s just my opinion!
