Searching for Joleen

she failed to pick up her children that Saturday. Joleen’s coworker, Kimberly Kessler is a prime suspect in the disappearance of the local mother. Kessler, who was identified through surveillance video parking Joleen’s vehicle in a Home Depot parking lot in

The search for local mother Joleen Cummings continues. Nassau County Sheriff Bill Leeper alongside a FBI Agent announced Friday that a well-planned and organized search would begin this past Saturday at the Chesser Island Landfill east of Folkston, Georgia.

Joleen has been missing since May 12 the day before Mother’s Day when the early morning hours of Mother’s Day has been charged with Auto Theft and is being held in the Jacksonville jail.

Special Agent in charge Charles Spencer stated that a specially trained search team consisting of 25 agents from offices in Jacksonville as well as Atlanta, Boston, Tampa, Washington and the FBI Quantico lab will be searching a specific area of the landfill. The area being searched is the approximate size of a football field. They will be sifting through 2,700 tons of trash, searching for any clue as to where Joleen may be. Once again video surveillance viewed by law enforcement shows Kessler placing a white trash bag into a dumpster. Detectives, along with assistance of a local refuge company, narrowed down the area of the landfill where the trash from that particular dumpster was placed in the landfill.

The search will be conducted from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for seven days. Crews will be wearing protective clothing due to the known and unknown contaminates in the landfill. Cooling tents along with FBI medical units will be utilized for the searchers due to the extreme heat and toxic debris.

Monday a press conference was held to give an update on the progress of the search. The team has found a few objects with dates around the time so they are close to the area they want to be. The team is looking for any kind of evidence to help in the case. The search will continue through Friday and the team will reevaluate if they need to continue longer.

Joleen’s mother, Ann Johnson continues to express her confidence with the investigation and the Nassau County Sheriff’s Department. Ann often expresses her emotions via social media. Her posts are that of a heart broken mother and a dedicated grandmother to Joleen’s children. Her faith in God is portrayed in every message she posts. Please continue to pray for Joleen’s children, her mother Ann, her siblings and the many friends that are heartbroken over this travesty.

Convoy of Hope Headed to Callahan

Many of you may remember, shortly after Hurricane Irma, Callahan received a semi-truck loaded with food and cleaning supplies that was a blessing to many people. We, once again, will be blessed with another Convoy of Hope truck in our area. Even though we have not been through a disaster, many people could use some extra food, water or cleaning supplies.

Convoy of Hope is headed to Callahan next Thursday, July 19. This time the truck will be at Callahan First Baptist Church and will contain food items, cleaning supplies and water for those who need them. The food will be distributed from the front of the main auditorium of the church from 10 a.m. until all the food and supplies are gone. Everyone will remain in their cars and drive-thru the line to receive your goods. Please tell your friends and neighbors about the special event that is open to all who need it!

A Word From the Publisher

These afternoon showers remind me of years ago. It seemed like every afternoon you could count on a rain shower. Granted, the recent rains have been downpours and I know everyone is pretty wet. I'll still take the rains over the drought. Fighting fires is a scary thing and a fire isn't easy to predict. They kind of do and go wherever they want to. We'll get through it, be patient!

The world we live in is so different from when I grew up. There are so many gadgets and distractions that people don't even know how to communicate anymore. We are so busy staying busy that we don't take time to just be still. Anyone who knows me knows I like to talk. I guess that's one of my 'God given' gifts. Okay, maybe I talk too much sometimes but that's me. I've learned that I'm never too busy to take time to listen. Now listening is something that I've really had to work hard to do. I always want to interject my comments instead of listening to what someone is telling me. You know, sometimes people just need to talk to someone and we need to listen.

I, myself, have found many days that I feel overwhelmed with work, projects, etc. I've found so much comfort in just being still and listening to God. Sometimes it's in a brisk morning walk. It's so peaceful in the early morning. It's a perfect quiet time to reflect. Most of the time, my peace comes from reading my devotional each morning. It's like God knows just what I'm going through and gives me peace through His word. Oh yeah! He does know what I'm going through. He knows my every move and thought. Probably my favorite hymn is Great is Thy Faithfulness. I have a new devotional with that title. That probably describes the way I feel about my Savior and Lord...He is so faithful to me. There are several songs that talk about the faithfulness of God. "Thou changest not, thy compassions they fail not," is part of one of the verses of the song. Now, how many of us don't change? Most have about 20 different personalities each day! And compassion, never failing, only God can do that! I know I have said it many times before that we are so quick to be negative about everything in our lives. Have you ever just taken the time to count the many blessings in your life? Just in one day? God is faithful. Another verse in a song that definitely makes God clear says, "You're parting waters making a way for me, you're moving mountains that I don't even see, you've answered my prayer before I even speak, all you need for me to be is still." Man! How true that is. So many times God has made a way for me and I never saw it.

I know I've rambled. I just pray in some way that as we struggle through each day it doesn't have to be that way. God has prepared such a beautiful creation for each of us to enjoy, we just have to be still sometimes. Slow down your busy lives and make time to enjoy each day. Just look around at the many blessings God has provided for each of us. He is faithful and merciful! Take time to enjoy Him.

Have a great week!

Book Club Members Visit Cross Creek

Alice Pehlke

Callahan Library Book Club members don't just sit around and read! They were inspired by a favorite book, Cross Creek, and were compelled to check out the location. Recently, five members traveled to author Marjorie Kinnan-Rawlings's home and grounds.

Miss Rawlings wrote of her life in the Florida backwoods during the 1930's and 40's. She is best known for the Pulitzer Prize winning novel, The Yearling. Her home and farm are kept as they were while she lived there. The site is owned and operated by the Florida State Park system. After a delightful informative tour, the group enjoyed lunch at the nearby "Yearling" restaurant. A stop at a fruit stand on the way home was a hit. They have decided more field trips are a must.

The club meets at the Callahan Library, 450077 SR 200, Suite #15, on the fourth Thursday of the month from 10:30-11:30 a.m. All are welcome.

For July, Book Club members are reading books set in China, and memoirs are the genre set for August. Who knows where those books may lead them?

Update on 'Save Billy's Home'

Dawn S. West

I recently had a chance to sit down with Billy Everly and found out what happened with his home. Several months ago, we (Westside Journal) printed an article about Billy and Angie Everly and a very real possibility of them losing their home. Following is short summary of what finally happened:

Billy Everly purchased solar panels for his home to help with his electric costs from American Solar, LLC who contracted the job to UMA. As the job was coming to completion, UMA and employees had not been paid leaving a lien on Billy's property of $8400. The job was never finished, no permits were pulled and the panels were never hooked up. Billy talked with another company, American Solar, Inc. (strange) but good people who looked over the system and hooked him up.

During the court case, Billy actually won, sorta. The judge ordered American Solar, LLC to pay UMA $8400. However, American Solar, LLC defaulted on the order. Currently, there is no law to correct this. They ran free. Billy told the judge he had $7000. UMA agreed to take the $7000 to finalize the agreement and satisfy the loan. Billy and Angie paid the $7000 and can finally rest in their home.

They cannot say 'Thank You' enough to the many people that came to their aid during this disaster. "We have been so blessed that so many people donated to our cause," said Billy. "We will be forever grateful!"

JUST MY OPINION

Roger R. West

I did it. I apologize but I just had to see what it was all about. I read a story concerning President Trump's most likely nominations for the soon to be vacant seat on the Supreme Court. The story was written by a CNN Journalist. When I mention CNN and journalist in the same sentence, it's almost like I'm lying, because they are not journalists, they are totally biased creators of fiction and scare tactics. I surely do not condone anything the liberal mainstream media places on television, social media or print. However if you really want to get a firsthand look at what is keeping the snowflakes in an uproar then read or watch a small dose of what the fake news media is feeding them. Not every word is condescending of the Trump presidency, but as you read or listen to the whole story, it's as if they are sending a sublingual message that is very blatant.

Now I caution you, if you do this, do it in small doses. It can be very hazardous to your mental health as we all have witnessed every time Nancy Pelosi opens her mouth. There is outstanding proof that liberalism is a mental disorder. Need proof? Maxine Waters. I guess I need to be more politically correct by only listing two females, so how about Harry Reid or Chuck Schumer or how about the totally misguided candidate running for Governor here in Florida, Jeff Greene. So you think that is not enough proof to convince you. There is a video floating around on social media that is asking young adults near a University in New York their opinion of President Trump's nomination for the Supreme Court. Now keep in mind, as the video was made, President Trump had not announced his nominee. Everyone who was asked had not so nice things to say about the fictitious nominee. It would be hilarious if it weren't so sad. The corrupt liberal news media on a daily basis is indoctrinating the poor souls that watch or read what they say. They are being brainwashed into automatically being against anything and everything associated with President Trump. The mental disorder blocks their brain from comprehending the importance of our Constitution, our Bill of Rights, our capitalism and our freedom. They are being lulled into a mental daze and are acting as zombies. So once again I warn you, if you step across that line out of curiosity, be very careful for liberalism is a frightening disease.

As always...that's just my opinion!

Spoiled

Pastor Arlie Johns, Hilliard First Assembly of God

Last week during the Fourth of July holiday our family took a family vacation. We knew that our oldest daughter would be home from Thailand for a couple of weeks so we made arrangements to rent a house that could accommodate all 14 of us. We had six children under the age of 10 and 8 adults. We had never been to this location or seen the house before, so it left many unanswered questions in our minds about how everything would work out (bedrooms, bathrooms, etc.). However, once we arrived all our fears were put to ease concerning the accommodations, the house was perfect. Next was the concern of how well we would get along together in a confined area with five of the children being six and below (6, 5, 3, 2, 5 months). I love my grandchildren, but it's not that often that they all stay with us for several days in a row. Well the house was big enough and had a built-in swimming pool that helped to make our time very enjoyable. Every meal was great but one and it was the one we were all looking forward to. It was going to be our special meal for the trip. We had bought a beef tenderloin to cut it up into steaks for that night. Everyone was busy with the preparation for the meal, some were cooking potatoes, some were cooking up the vegetables and others were making the salad, while I was getting the grill ready and preparing to cut up the tenderloin into steaks. When I opened the package, the meat had spoiled and smelled rancid. Needless to say, we didn't have steak for dinner that night.

Later I began to think about our temporary disappointment over our dinner that night because of the meat that had spoiled. It reminded me of a story in Jeremiah 13. Jeremiah was instructed by the Lord to buy a linen belt, later he was told to hide the belt in the rocks by the Euphrates River. Sometime later the lord told him to go and find the belt again, but now it was ruined. Jeremiah 13:9-11 "This is what the Lord says: 'In the same way I will ruin the pride of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem. These wicked people, who refuse to listen to my words, who follow the stubbornness of their hearts and go after other gods to serve and worship them, will be like this belt—completely useless! For as a belt is bound around a man's waist, so I bound the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to me,' declares the Lord, 'to be my people for my renown and praise and honor. But they have not listened.'" (NIV84)

I had to pay a great price for those steaks the other day and it made me sad to have to throw them all away because they had spoiled.

Take a moment and think about the great price that God had to pay for your salvation. He gave His best (Jesus Christ), His one and only son just for you. Be careful that you don't become like the children of Israel and Judah did during Jeremiah's day. Don't allow yourself to become a spoiled and rancid people by following after your own ways. Put God first in all your ways and follow the teaching of His word.

By the way, we had a smoked pork butt that was already cooked that we were able to eat that night in place of the steaks, so the meal turned out great even though the steak was bad. God is good! And no one got sick from the rotten meat.

HELPING OUR VETERANS!

My name is Abigail Pickett and I am 9 years old. I live in Hilliard and I am collecting items for local Veterans. I feel very strongly that they get overlooked in our society. I have heard a lot about poor veteran healthcare and the suicide rate. This really bothered me and I want to do my part to help.

The 5-Star Veterans Center in Jacksonville is a place that houses nearly 40 veterans. They provide housing, counseling, assistance obtaining medical care and job training. Their mission is to get homeless veterans mentally and physically healthy so they can return to work, reunite with their families and successfully regain control of their lives following deployment.

The center is in need of items such as personal hygiene products, cleaning supplies and small snacks, like crackers and candy. I'll be collecting these items at the Westside Journal office across from Dollar General in Callahan through Friday, August 3. Thank you for helping me, help our veterans!

Martin Announces Candidacy for Re-election NCSB District 1

Donna Martin recently announced her candidacy for re-election for the Nassau County School Board District 1 seat that she currently holds. Mrs. Martin is employed as the Executive Director of the Florida State College at Jacksonville Nassau Center. She graduated from the University of Central Florida, Summa Cum Laude, with a Bachelors Degree in Mathematics and earned her Masters Degree in Mathematical Science from the University of North Florida, where she was selected as the Outstanding Graduate Student in Mathematics and Statistics. She also holds an Educational Specialist Degree in Higher Education with a concentration in Developmental Education from Appalachian State University.

work diligently to ensure that taxpayer money is spent where it can most benefit the students of Nassau County and continue to provide the best instructional methods, materials and resources available.

Additionally, she feels the School Board needs to continue to offer competitive salaries and benefits to our teachers so that we attract and retain the best.

As the population of our county continues to grow, Martin believes it is vitally important that the School District monitors growth, plans accordingly to improve and expand our existing schools and budgets properly for the construction of new schools to meet the demands of a large influx of new school age children.

Martin is committed to safe schools adding, "The students of Nassau County deserve to feel safe and secure in their schools." Our work for safer schools started with the 2017-18 school year. We have completed safety assessments, initiated improvements such as locks, fencing, and secure entrances. Along with fortifying our buildings, we have met with the Nassau County Sheriff's Office and the Fernandina Beach Police Department. We have hired a School District Safety Specialist and there will be a School Safety Officer and Threat Assessment Team in every school. Our plans for safer schools include mental health services as well.

Donna Martin feels strongly about her responsibility to serve the children of Nassau County and asks for your vote on August 28th. To become a campaign volunteer or host an event, please call 904-261-9015 or email martindm@bellsouth.net. Visit: Facebook@VoteDonnaMartin.

Martin has lived in Nassau County for 25 years with her husband, John, who is retired from the Navy and recently retired as Nassau County's Veterans' Service Officer. They have one daughter, Janel, who is a graduate of Fernandina Beach High School, and is currently employed as a teacher there. They have four grandchildren, three of which attend Nassau County Schools and the fourth is two-years-old.

"I care about the future of Nassau County. I believe that the future of Nassau County depends on the decisions we make today that will impact our most precious resource, our children. It is our responsibility to ensure that the children of this county continue to be given every opportunity to learn and grow into productive citizens, fully prepared for the challenges they will face as adults." Martin said.

She believes that the uncertainty regarding state funding over the next few years will require the School Board to

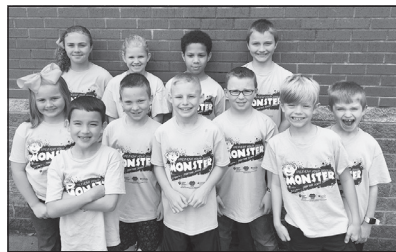

HES Jump Rope Fundraiser

Last school year, Hilliard Elementary School students participated in the Jump Rope for Heart Fundraiser for the American Heart Association. Students encouraged friends and family members to make contributions for the American Heart Association. As part of the fundraiser, students jumped rope to help raise money for the AHA, which funds cardiovascular disease research and public and professional educational programs. The money raised through this event supports potential lifesaving research concerning heart and blood vessel diseases, as well as educational and community programs.

The students ended up collecting $6,550.00 in contributions. Over the last 12 years, HES students have collected and donated a total of $61,206.62 to the American Heart Association! Great job students!

New Beginnings and Milestones

Elizabeth McIntosh Celebrates 100th Birthday

Elizabeth McIntosh, a longtime resident of Hilliard and a current resident of the Life Care Center of Hilliard, celebrated her 100th birthday July 10. Ms. Liz was born the eighth child of ten in North Carolina where she spent her youth. Her first job was working at the telephone company. Sometime later, she married and moved to Callahan where she and her husband owned a farm. Years after her husband passed, she remarried and eventually sold the farm. She enjoyed dabbling in real estate. She loved buying and selling property. There are many plots in Hilliard that Ms. Liz had a hand in at one time. Her only surviving brother, Johnny, now lives in North Carolina.

Ms. Liz is one of the sharpest tacks around! Not too many things get passed her at the center. She has a friendly smile and greets everyone.

She celebrated her special milestone with a birthday party in her honor at the center on Sunday with lots of friends and family joining in the celebration!

Happy 1st Birthday Claire Elise DeBolt

Claire DeBolt celebrated her first birthday June 12. She celebrated her special day with a pool party in her honor at her grandparent's house with lots of family and friends joining in the fun! Her proud parents are Corey and Lauren DeBolt of Callahan!

Proud grandparents are Keith and Paula Thompson of Callahan; and Walter and Wanda DeBolt of Jacksonville. Proud great-grandparents are June Goforth; and Beatrice Thompson, both of Callahan.

Hampton Scholarships Awarded at River Road Sunday

This past Sunday, 15 scholarships, totaling $26,000, were awarded to students for assistance in continuing their education in the ministry field. The scholarships were given on behalf of the R. Niel Hampton, Jr. Memorial Scholarship Foundation. Funds are raised all through the year along with the largest fundraiser the annual Golf Tournament held in April. The foundation was begun by Niel and Sandy Hampton in memory of the untimely death of their son, R. Niel Hampton, Jr. Partners along with the Hamptons in the foundation are River Road Baptist Church and the Florida Baptist Foundation.

Each year, students apply for the scholarship and are asked to attend the presentation, if possible. If not, they are asked to send a video about their current status.

The students receiving scholarships were: Kathryn Large, Regent University; Kristen Wannamaker, Benjamin McMillen, Yoany Lorenzo, all attend Southern Baptist Theological Seminary; Shawn Branham, Jacob Jackson, Dylan McGee, all attend Baptist College of Florida; Courtney Horne, Trinity Baptist College; Mary Taylor, Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary; Cody Watson, New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary; Hope McLendon, Columbia International University; Davie Ferraro, Asbury Theological Seminary; Brian Stiles, Covenant Baptist Theological Seminary; Jeremy Large, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary; and Rachael Johns, (Christian Education) Pensacola Christian College.

K's Kreamery...A REAL TREAT!

There is something new around town! A cute, decorated ice cream trailer ready to be at your next party or event! K's Kreamery is a licensed ice cream parlor on wheels. "I got the idea from a friend in Louisiana who has one. She has done great," said owner Kharmon Wofford. "I thought it would be a good thing to have around our area."

The ice cream trailer can be taken to any home or event and set up. All you need to do is to tell Kharmon how many people you expect to have and she handles the rest. Guests can walk through the trailer, pick out their ice cream (in a cone or cup), add their toppings, and exit the trailer. She even has a cute backdrop in case party goers want to take pictures. Of course, the trailer itself is so colorful and cute that a picture in front of it would be great also!

Kharmon has been getting the word out through Facebook and Instagram but she can also be reached at (904) 507-1687. Call now to get your next event scheduled. Lots of fun and oh so good!

FFS Sends Firefighters to Battle Western Blazes

Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Adam H. Putnam recently announced that the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services' Florida Forest Service deployed a Type 2 Initial Attack Hand-Crew of 20 people to battle the Winter Valley Fire in Oklahoma. In addition, 29 single resources have been assembled from around the state to assist with wildfire suppression in Colorado, Wyoming, Texas, Utah and New Mexico. Three local Florida Forest Service wildland firefighters were deployed including: 2 from Nassau County that went to Oklahoma as an Incident Commander Type 5 and a Feller Type 2; and 1 from Clay County went as a Heavy Equipment Boss to Colorado

"Our wildland firefighters are exceptionally well-trained, and we are ready to support suppression efforts out west in any way we can," said Commissioner of Agriculture Adam H. Putnam. "I applaud their selfless dedication to protecting our fellow Americans."

Deployed wildland firefighters will fill a variety of roles including front-line firefighting, firefighter safety, incident management and more.

"With the recent rainfall and current low wildfire danger levels across Florida, we are able to lend support to other states for the protection of people, structures and natural resources," said Florida Forest Service Director and State Forester Jim Karels.

The Florida Forest Service, a division of the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, manages more than 1 million acres of state forests and provides forest management assistance on more than 17 million acres of private and community forests. The Florida Forest Service is also responsible for protecting homes, forestland and natural resources from the devastating effects of wildfire on more than 26 million acres. Hilliard Town News

The Hilliard Town Council met Thursday night for their first regular meeting of July. The first order of business was the first reading of Ordinance 2018-06 which concerned the Business Tax Rate Increase. This is an ordinance amending the town's business tax rate schedule in accordance with Section 205.0535(4) of the Florida Statutes by increasing the rate of each classification by no greater than five percent. The council approved first reading. The final reading will be Thursday, August 2.

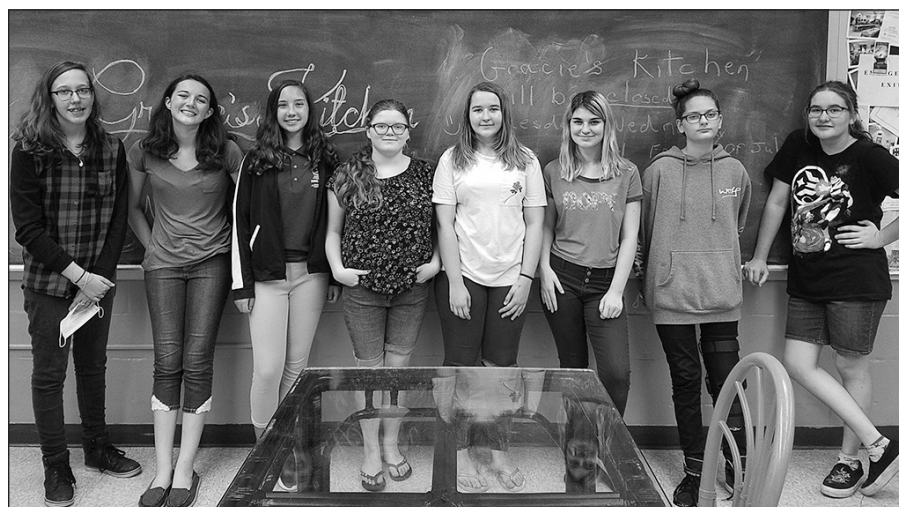

Council President John Beasley advised the council about the idea of rescheduling the fireworks to either Labor Day or Veteran's Day. "This is something we can think about and talk about it at our next meeting. Also, I know at one time, we talked with Callahan about joining us to do the fireworks and possibly moving them to the fairgrounds," said Beasley. "Is it okay with the council for me to ask Callahan about the possibility?" Beasley will contact the town of Callahan to get on their agenda and discuss the idea.

Parks & Recreation Director Kyle Malucci requested to schedule a workshop with the council concerning a resolution review of the department. The workshop is scheduled for Thursday, July 17 at 6 p.m.

The next meeting of the council will be Thursday, July 19 at 7 p.m.

NAEGLERIA HEALTH ALERT:

Naegleria is a dangerous parasite in lake and pond water. Naegleria is a big name for a tiny parasite (amoeba) that enters the body through the nose, making its way to the brain which causes an infection. This infection causes a rare, but life-threatening disease called Primary Amoebic Meningoencephalitis (PAM). Symptoms of PAM can start as quickly as 1 to 14 days after infection.

Symptoms include: headache, fever, nausea, vomiting and stiff neck. The disease moves very quickly into the brain causing swelling which leads to confusion, lack of attention, loss of balance, seizures and hallucinations. This disease usually results in death within 3 to 7 days.

As temperatures rise, so does your chance of becoming infected. The safest way to prevent infection is to not swim in warm, standing water such as lakes, ponds, poorly maintained swimming pools, storm water, holding areas or places that are posted 'No Swimming'. Wear nose clips, hold your nose closed or keep your head out of the water when swimming, jumping or diving in any freshwater. Do not dig or stir up the sand and silt while swimming in shallow water. This is where the parasites live. There is no cure for this infection, so prevention is important. Please take the time to research this and tell people about it. It could save a loved one or friend.

2018 Florida Forestry Teacher's Tour

The 2018 Florida Forestry Teacher's Tour was held June 19-22. Forty teachers from all over Florida convened in Fernandina Beach for this unique opportunity to look at the role Florida's forest industry plays in our everyday lives. Florida Forest Service Jacksonville District Manager Jennifer Hart explained "There are more than 5,000 products that come from Florida forests and the industry supports thousands of jobs and communities," said Hart. "Every part of the tree is utilized in some way and each year more trees are planted than harvested, ensuring this valuable renewable resource will be available for future generations. We want educators to see that sustainability is the key to responsible forestry."

Tour stops were chosen to highlight the many facets of the forest industry from the small family tree farm to large industrial operations. In Clay County, teachers visited Jennings State Forest for a prescribed fire demonstration, a small family owned tree farm, and Camp Blanding to learn about ongoing conservation efforts. In Nassau County, teachers visited Rayonier Forest Resources property for presentations on tree genetics, timber volume measurements and harvesting. The papermaking process was detailed at the West Rock papermill and box plant in Fernandina Beach. In Duval County, teachers visited the West Fraser Saw Mill in Whitehouse and the Symrise chemical plant to learn how papermaking byproducts are used to produce flavorings and scents for thousands of products manufactured throughout the world. The tour also went to Alachua County to visit Austin

Cary Memorial Forest and learn about Project Learning Tree curriculum and forestry career paths from the University of Florida.

Teachers received a variety of educator materials and lesson plan ideas that they can incorporate in the classroom. All meals and lodging were provided and teachers earned 30 continuing education units for their time.

The annual tour is made possible through sponsorships from the forest industry, private citizens, landowners, the Florida Forest Service and others. If you would like to participate in the 2019 Florida Forestry Teacher's Tour or make a donation, please visit <http://floridaforest.org/programs/teachers-tour/>

The Florida Forest Service, a division of the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, manages more than 1 million acres of state forests, provides management assistance on more than 17 million acres of private and community forests, while protecting homes, forestland and natural resources from the devastating effects of wildfire on more than 26 million acres.
