

JUST MY OPINION

Roger R. West

Just some random thoughts today, I don't know which local candidate is paying for a telephone poll here in Nassau County. Whoever it is sure enough are wasting their money. I have never believed that polls were accurate or trustworthy and this local poll has confirmed my belief. One afternoon last week our home phone rang, I looked at the caller ID and it showed something like "political poll." Just out of curiosity, I answered it and it was a recorded message asking questions concerning different local politicians and local races. The questions were such as, what's your opinion of Janet Adkins, Stan Bethea and Justin Taylor, who would you vote for if the election were today for Supervisor of Elections and County Commission District 1 and 5. More questions concerning Supervisor of Elections than any other race, which gave me a clue as to which candidate was sponsoring this poll. After each question you were given a choice of answers by pressing 1, 2, 3 or 4 on the phone. This is the typical way that most polls are conducted. The kicker is that later that evening the telephone rang again, lo and behold it was the same poll. So once again I listened to each question and punched in my appropriate answer. This proved to me that this poll was going to show bogus results. Then the very next night at nearly 9 p.m., the telephone rang again, yep, you guessed it, the exact same poll once again. So I was able to give my opinion three times! So there is why poll numbers do not reflect reality.

Sometimes I just marvel at the ignorance of the liberals in this great country. The same people that think conservatives are a bunch of dumb ignorant deplorables, actually want to defund police departments. The scariest part of this is that many city officials across America agree and some have even begun slashing law enforcement budgets with plans to continue with more cuts or completely do away with their police departments. Even ole Uncle Joe Biden is in agreeance with slashing law enforcement. I cannot even fathom what society would be without our law enforcement officers. Now what really intrigues me about this scenario is the "what if?" What if there were no longer any police? Do these liberals not realize what would happen? That would mean it's the good guys against the bad guys! If there is no police then there are no trials and no jails, just good vs. evil. The next time they started rioting, looting and destroying property, do they not know that the good guys are going to roll in and end the riot very quickly. The good guys aren't going to be sensitive to their unjustified feelings and snowflake ideals. If the good guys see drug deals they are going to put an end to it. No police no worries. After the good guys eliminate the threat, then the SWAT team (not Special Weapons And Tactics teams, but Social Workers And Therapists teams) can move in if there are any one left standing.

It sounds barbaric and it is, but it is what would happen if there were no law enforcement. We all would have to police our surroundings. One more issue that would play against this liberal ideology, while the largest portion of conservatives are stocking up on self-defense weapons and ammo, the liberals are still trying to figure out their gender. It's not going to end well for the snowflakes.

As always...that's just my opinion!
