

JUST MY OPINION

Roger R. West

Fellow patriots, we are in a world of trouble! When CNN admits that VP Harris was not effective in her trip to South America, then we know it was a total disaster. CNN tried to whitewash (not a racial slur) her failures as best they could but even they were dismayed at her performance as a supposed leader. CNN reported that Harris's trip left some administration officials quietly perplexed about what they perceived as her bumpy answers to questions. She has left little doubt of her incompetence to serve as a world leader. As Jon Gabriel said, "Vice President Harris looks good on paper, but she's not good at politics, her trip to talk immigration proved as bad as her presidential run." He stated, "The White House finally noticed something the Democratic primary voters knew two years ago, put simply, Kamala Harris is not an effective politician." When Harris announced her presidential campaign in January 2019 she was immediately thrust into the top contender spot. She fit everything the progressive left dreamed about. However, by December 2019 she had dropped out of the race due to dismal support and her constant flip-flopping, very awkward interviews and implying Joe Biden was a racist.

Her first foreign trip was as dismal as her bid for president. She attempted to be tough telling the Guatemalan people, "Do not come. Do not come. I believe if you come to our border, you will be turned back." These remarks upset progressives (socialists) and immigration reformers (socialists) and furthered the hypocrisy and confusion within the White House. Guatemalan President Giammettei in April criticized Biden's handling of this issue. He stated, "I believe that in the first few weeks of the Biden administration, messages were confusing. They were compassionate messages that were understood by people in our country, especially the coyotes, to tell families, we'll take the children."

Further dismay came when Harris was being interviewed with Univision anchor Llia Calderon concerning when Harris would actually visit the border. Harris responded, "I've said I'm going to the border. And I..." "When are you going to the border, Vice President?" Calderon interrupted her to ask. "I'm not finished," said Harris with a sarcastic laugh while she raised her finger to the reporter.

Then there was the interview on NBC News when anchor Lester Holt ask her about going to the border. Harris relied, "We've been to the border. So this whole thing about the border, we've been to the border." Holt replied, "You haven't been to the border." Harris starts laughing and said, "And I haven't been to Europe." She is so undiplomatic to say the least.

So we have a President suffering dementia and a Vice President that does not possess any intellect and neither of them should be in their current positions. The saying goes, cheaters never win, I am impatiently waiting because if they hold their current reign we all will lose.

As always...that's just my opinion!
