

JUST MY OPINION

Roger R. West

Well he did it again, and the liberal left cannot stand it. As President Trump threatened more tariffs, the liberal left was criticizing him about it every chance they got. Will they ever learn that he (President Trump) is the ultimate negotiator? Will they ever give him credit for any of the positive things he has done for our country? I think we all know the answer.

When the President announced last Friday that a deal had been reached with Mexico and he was dropping the increased tariffs most Democrats and pro-immigration advocates stepped back into the shadows and kept unusually silent. The deal called the “Remain in Mexico” requires migrants who arrive at our border will have to remain in Mexico until their court date in the U.S. for the purpose of asylum. No longer can they just freely walk into our country holding a child and receive benefits that even our own citizens don’t receive.

House Speaker Pelosi was nowhere to be seen. Even her Twitter account was silent, lol. Not so for ole Chuckie though. Schumer had to pour out some sarcasm on his Twitter feed. He tweeted, “This is a historic night! ‘@realDonaldTrump has announced that he has cut a deal to greatly reduce, or eliminate, illegal immigration coming from Mexico and into the United States.’ Now with that problem is solved, I’m sure we won’t be hearing any more about it in the future.”

What a jerk! What’s so cool about it is Trump announced the deal just two days after Chuckie predicted that Trump was just bluffing. Schumer had tweeted last Wednesday “Publicly the President has continued to talk tough on tariffs with Mexico, but I continue to believe he’ll ultimately back off. When he does, I would urge him to consider commonsense policies to deal with the real issues concerning migration & the border.” Well Chuckie-boy, put that in your pipe and smoke it!

Of course as Senator Marco Rubio tweeted, “Will be very interesting to see how the media covers this now. It is going to be very hard for some of them to give @POTUS credit for this.” He was totally right, from Politico to the Washington Post to The New York Times and on and on, the President was not credited for his stance that brought forth the deal with Mexico.

Just a thought to ponder, why do we have so many problems facing our nation when we have so many in Congress that have been there for decades? Could it be that they are the real reason we have these problems? Take a look at all the Democrats that are attempting to be their party’s nomination to run for President in 2020. Count up the years they have been in Washington and ask why now they think they can solve our problems when they have done nothing about them in the last two decades or more.

Jump on the Trump train, he’s not perfect, but he is perfect for the job!

As always...that’s just my opinion!
