50th Annual Callahan Christmas PARADE SATURDAY 11 AM

Dawn S. West

The 50th Annual Callahan Christmas Parade will be held this Saturday beginning at 11 a.m. It's hard to believe the parade has been happening for 50 years and even harder to believe that I remember them from long ago. I can remember when my children were little, we would watch the parade from the Barnett Bank yard on A1A (now SR 200). Yes, the parade route has changed throughout the years and continues to give you such pride of a hometown Christmas parade. Accolades to the West Nassau Historical Society for taking on the project of presenting the huge event.

This year, the parade route will begin at Dixie Avenue beside the Depot, turn right and travel down US Highway 1 all the way to 5th Avenue; turn right on 5th and right again on Booth Street, back to the Depot. The official vendor market, with over 85 vendors, will be held at the depot, the Callahan Pavilion and the railroad bed. There are vendors of all kinds including: crafts, woodworking, food, toys, clothing, and much more!

There will also be photos with Santa and Mrs. Claus at the Callahan Pavilion, following the parade at 12:30 p.m.

This year's Grand Marshal is Raymond Fachko! Raymond recently retired from Brandies Ace Hardware after working there for 50 years and as manager/owner for the last 40 years. Raymond is a well-known face within Callahan as he has always been such a supporter of everything in town. His grandfather was Cliff Brandies (of whom the store was named) and Raymond got his work ethic from him. Raymond is a wonderful Christian man that well deserves this honor!

The Honorary Grand Marshal is Mr. Elliott Jones, 100-year-old US Navy WWII Veteran, who was born and raised in Callahan. Mr. Elliott celebrated his 100th birthday in October. For the last several years, you have seen Mr. Elliott riding his electric bicycle in the parade. This year, he will be riding in his son's pickup truck pulling a trailer with his bike on it. Thank you, Mr. Jones for your service to our country!

When a Son Becomes the Parent Book Signing Saturday

Dawn S. West

I recently had the great opportunity to sit down and talk with Shannon Wright about his recent book, When a Son Becomes the Parent. This interview was somewhat different from many of the other ones I have done, as it was personal in many ways. I have known Shannon for several years, as he graduated from West Nassau High School, with my daughter, Jenny, in 2003. I went to school with his mother, Alma, and her siblings. Going further back, my dad (Coach Jim Stearn) was Shannon's father's (Sidney Wright) coach when he was in high school. Our family was very close with the entire Wright family. So, this interview was like talking with family.

Shannon is a very smart young man. Once he graduated from high school, he continued his education achieving his Bachelors Degree from Florida A & M University in Healthcare Management and continued to achieve his Master's Degree in 2011 in Public Administration in Health Care Management. He started his own business in the new/used car dealership; along with also starting a physical fitness company, serving as the trainer and owner. As you can see, not many things have stopped Shannon's desire to excel in this world. He is a self-motivated and hardworking man.

Now, he is a father himself of a sweet baby girl. It seemed like everything was going in the right direction and as he planned. However, God had another plan for Shannon.

Although his parents had been divorced for many years, Shannon still remained close with both of them. During the time Shannon was finishing his degree, he started noticing changes in his father. Around 2016, Sidney was diagnosed with the onset of Dementia. With each visit to his dad, Shannon continued to watch his father decline, so much so that he decided to move in with him and become his caregiver and he has been doing so for about 7 years. "While visiting my dad I could see him spiraling down each day. He was depressed and withdrawn," said Shannon. "I just couldn't watch it happen. I had to take action. He was smoking and drinking all the time. He had anger issues. Something had to change and I moved in."

Obviously, moving in with his father changed Shannon's life completely. He spends a lot of time talking with his dad. Sidney was also dealing with lots of anger and was sometimes violent with others, even Shannon. "He would call the police on me all the time. Thankfully, that hasn't happened in a while," recalls Shannon. "I told him things are going to change around here. We're going to keep this house clean and no more drinking or smoking! Now we have great conversations and exercise together. It helps to keep him motivated! He is a very smart man. It just takes time and lots of patience."

Shannon wrote the book hoping to give encouragement to caregivers. There isn't a book for that, kind of like parenting. "I have learned through the process I must take time away so I have a CNA to sit with Daddy three times a week. He enjoys the company. The roles have changed and now I make the rules. My dad is much better and I am much better through this process,” said Shannon. “Caregiving is very difficult but I am reminded every day, he would do this for me.”

Shannon will hold a book signing this Saturday, December 2 at 12:30 p.m. at Callahan Barbecue, following the Callahan Christmas parade. His book can be purchased for $15 and signed Saturday, payable by Cash, Credit Card or Zelle. We will also have his book, When a Son Becomes the Parent for sale at the Westside Journal next week for $15 cash.

Congratulations, Shannon, I'm very proud of you!

JUST MY OPINION

Roger R. West

It was almost like walking into a Hallmark movie scene, of course without the real and/or fake snow. I have often joked with Dawn about the movies she loves to watch this time of year on her two favorite TV channels, Great American Family and Hallmark. The settings so often are small towns celebrating the Christmas season and I tell her that just doesn't seem real to me, even though I have enjoyed watching many of them with her.

Well, Saturday, the Town of Hilliard came very close to being one of those Hallmark experiences. Starting at noon there were vendors lining the street at the town park with all sorts of crafts and gifts. There were local organizations selling food and drinks with festive cheer. The "Grinch" was spotted making his way around the park and doing a little pre-Christmas shopping. Then as it began getting dark there were hundreds of people gathered at the park. A prayer was said. Some of the people were sitting on benches, children were playing, while others were walking around on the park's sidewalk, sipping hot apple cider, munching on cookies and looking at all the Christmas trees that lined the entire route of the sidewalk on both sides. The Christmas trees were all decorated with different themes by local businesses and families. There was Christmas music sing-alongs under the pavilion as everyone anticipated the arrival of Santa Claus and the lighting of the town's huge Christmas tree. Santa arrived along with his nemesis, the Grinch. Then the long anticipate countdown for the Christmas tree lighting began. What a magnificent sight as all the lights lit up! The epitome of living in a small town! Well done Hilliard, well done!

It's a shame that life can't always be so cordial and friendly, but just as soon as we left the park the reality of the world we live in was still ever present. The reality of a rouge and unlawful government, high inflation, crime all across the nation, the reality of the war Israel was forced into, Americans dying every day from drug over doses, world leaders chomping at the bit to control the entire world. Of course, all of these are driven by one single source, evil. Evil in the likes we have never witnessed, that evil is the sole driver of many people. Even in our own national political scene, politics has been far removed; it is now evil just to hurt other people. We all know the source of evil, it's Satan! He continues to unleash his demons to destroy everything that is good and righteous because he knows his time is now very limited. If only we could bring the small town nuance to the entire world, how wonderful that would be.

Let's all continue to pray for our nation, our homeless veterans and all who are less fortunate than us. Let us also be thankful for what we have and pray we are able to maintain. America still has a lot of good, but we need to make it great again!

As always...that's just my opinion!

Look for us on Facebook!

Staying Settled in an Unsettled World

Pastor Marvin Lee, Ephesus Baptist Church, Hilliard

“Give thanks to the Lord, call on His name; proclaim His deeds among the peoples. Search for the Lord and His strength; seek His face always.” Psalm 105:1,3

It is an understatement to say that we live in shaky times. I walked by a room where the Optimist Club was holding a meeting and heard one member say, “This has been a bad, bad year!” And that was from an optimist! It is obvious that things are shaky Politically. Economically. Culturally. And for many personally. Many questions are being asked, “Where are things going?” “What’s going to happen?” “When will things settle down?” And while we may not have all the answers to these questions we can, as believers in Jesus Christ, still say settled in an unsettled world. Psalm 105:1-7 tells us how.

First, rejoice in the Lord. Verses 1-3, tell us to give praise to Him; to sing and glorify His name. When we give Him thanks it turns our attention to Him and reminds us of His person and His promises.

Second, rely on His strength. Verse 4 tells us to do that. Our God will give us the strength to do what He calls us to do. He is always with us. It is important to remember that we do not live this life in our own strength, but His.

Next, we should remember what He has already done. Verse 5 tells us to remember the wonders He has done. God has brought us this far. He has been with us through every battle and every stage of our life. Because He has been faithful in the past, we know He will be faithful in the future.

Then, we need to remember our relationship to Him (verse 6). As those who have trusted Jesus as Lord and Savior, we have become the children of God. We belong to Him. Psalm 8 is a great passage to read if you are wondering about what you mean to God.

Finally, rest in His sovereignty. He is the Lord our God. His judgments are in all the earth (verse 7). God is in control. We may not understand everything that is going on around us, but He does. Nothing in your life is outside of His power or His love. You can rest in Him. You can trust Him. One day He will make all things right.

If you are feeling unsettled, meditate on these truths and allow the God of all comfort to settle your heart.

CMS Band to Hold Winter Concert

Student-Led Worship this Friday

Sonshine Christian Academy, at Crossroads Church in Callahan, will host an impactful night of student-led worship Friday, December 1. This event is not only for youth and families but is intended for anyone who desires to draw closer to the heart of Jesus.

The Sonshine worship team has played together since 2020. In the school year of 2021-2022, they started to experience the move of God in their high school chapel service. The move of God showed them that what was happening at the school needed to be open to the public which led to hosting worship nights. Their purpose is to bring unity within the body of Christ and to spread the Good News of the gospel.

Join us Friday, December 1 at 6 p.m. Crossroads Church is located at 542284 US Highway 1, Callahan.

Callahan Councilwoman Janet Shaw Honored

Dawn S. West

The Callahan Town Council met last Monday, November 20 for their final meeting of November. The first order of business was a presentation by Eryn Russell, representing the Florida League of Cities. "I am here tonight to recognize and honor Callahan Councilwoman Janet Shaw for her 21 years of service to the Town of Callahan as a councilwoman. She has served as the magnet voice for the Callahan citizens by supplying information to them," said Russell. "For your many years of service, the Florida League of cities is also presenting you the Legacy of Leadership John Land award to recognize you, for your unselfish commitment to local government. We also appreciate your constant work to improve the quality of life for Callahan citizens. We thank you for your time and talents while serving on this council."

"I have been here a long time. I'm so grateful and thankful to be a member of this council in my hometown," said Councilwoman Shaw. "I love the Town of Callahan and the people. It's such an honor and a blessing to serve here. Thank you so much!"

The first agenda item concerned a request for re-zoning at 45261 Fourth Avenue. "My name is Sherrie Spaulding and I am representing the owner of Thompson Mall requesting a re-zoning of 45261 Fourth Avenue in Callahan directly behind Thompson Mall from residential to commercial," said Spaulding.

"This re-zoning request has already been through the Planning & Zoning Board," said Councilman David Mellecker, also Commissioner of Planning & Zoning. "The board approved the request with one exception: the owner must have a privacy fence placed between the property and the Garden Club building next door before any work can begin."

"When would the fence need to be placed?" asked Spaulding.

"It needs to be up no later than mid-January," added Town Manager Mike Williams.

The final agenda item concerned making a donation to the First Readers organization. Resolution 2023-R22 was approved to donate $500 to the First Readers organization.

In closing comments, Town Clerk Shawna Gugliuzza reminded the council about the Annual Callahan Christmas Parade: Saturday, December 2 at 11 a.m.; Callahan Movie in the Park at Ewing Park, Saturday, December 9; and the Christmas Santa Run with the Callahan Volunteer Fire Department: Saturday, December 16.

The next meeting of the council will be Monday, December 4 at 7 p.m.

A Bit of History...

Skirmish at Brandy Branch - July 1864

Larry Skinner

In late July 1864, Union "US" forces in Jacksonville took a steam transport up Black Creek to just east of Middleburg, offloading three infantry regiments and one mounted troop. The object of this raid was to drive Confederate "CS" forces out of Camp Milton and Baldwin to Lake City, opening up the Florida counties to the south to US raids.

The US Infantry units marched through Clay Hill to threaten Baldwin from the south while the US mounted force went and came up on the west side of the Little St. Marys River. This allowed them to surprise the CS trestle guard, capture them, and burn and destroy the railroad trestle. This cut off CS forces in Baldwin from their supply line and headquarters in Lake City. Late that night CS officers in Baldwin decided to abandon Baldwin. Being cut off to the south and west they marched northwest at 3 a.m. July 26th, reaching Brandy Branch (Brandy Branch Baptist Church today) at about 6 a.m. Here they stopped to wait for a company of men who had abandoned a train at Lewisville (near Ford Rd. and US 301 today).

Young Josh Frier, who was in this company, said that as soon as they got to Brandy Branch, they were put in a line of battle because of an approaching US force. In just a few minutes about 100 US mounted troops appeared and drove in the CS pickets; both sides opened up with musket fire. Private Frier said this was the first time he had heard the whiz of mini-balls and he was trying to stand just as small as he could. It took a few minutes, but when the CS artillery opened up, the US troops fell back toward Baldwin. CS troops crossed the St. Mary's River and marched to the west side of the Little St. Mary's River (Baker County High School today) and established their line there, while US troops held Baldwin until August 15th when they marched south. The US mounted troops would be defeated at the Battle of Gainesville on August 17th.

For many years after this, Mr. Emery Stokes, of Bryceville, said you could still see a cannonball stuck in a tree at the Brandy Branch Crossing.

Hilliard Lights New Town Christmas Tree

Saturday the Hilliard Town Park was filled with vendors and shoppers throughout the day. Around 5 p.m. the crowds changed a little as the shopping stopped and the crowds gathered around the town pavilion to get the best view of the town's new 18' Christmas tree as it was lit! Everyone enjoyed cookies, hot chocolate, punch and apple cider as the waited for the unveiling and Santa to arrive. Around 6 p.m. Santa Claus and the Grinch arrived and shortly thereafter, Hilliard Mayor John Beasley began the countdown! The tree is beautiful and is in a perfect location at the park. Hilliard also has the parade of Christmas trees lining the sidewalks all the way around the park. Trees are decorated by businesses, churches, schools and citizens all around. The town tree is now for everyone to enjoy. As the town staff has named the event: #HallmarkOurHilliard, it truly is a festive and beautiful place to enjoy!
