Nassau Extension Announces New Agriculture Agent

First Class March 28

Nassau County Extension Service is proud to announce the new Agriculture and Natural Resource Agent, David Hebert. David looks forward to sharing his knowledge with growers and producers to meet the county's needs. His educational background is agronomy, plant pathology and agricultural biology.

David will conduct his first class titled Organic Matter "A Wellness Check for Your Soil." Much of the soil in Florida is sandy and has little organic matter. Learn about organic matter and how it is important for soil and how to properly test and amend your soil. The class will be held Monday, March 28 from 6:30-8 p.m. at the multi-use building at the Fairgrounds, 543350 US Highway 1, Callahan. The cost is $5 pre-registration; or $10 at the door (covers materials and hors d'oeuvres). The registration deadline is Friday March 25. The pre-registration link is: <https://bit.ly/3CedSyh>. For more information email: David.hebert@ufl.edu or call Laura at 904-530-6353.

Mullin Retires Amid Scandal

Roger R. West

After four years of back and forth litigation between Nassau County and Rayonier's subsidiary Raydient (Wildlight Developers), County Attorney Mike Mullin will retire from his position with the county effective March 31, 2022. A memo from the 4th Judicial Circuit State Attorney's office concluded Mullin broke the law while dealing with Raydient Properties.

The state found evidence that Mullin indeed committed criminal acts by allowing a failure to preserve public records, failing to truthfully and timely respond to Raydient's public records request, and allowing deletions of text messages that should have been public record. The State Attorney's Office released a 10-page memo acknowledging that Mullin's acts are considered criminal. The criminal charge is a misdemeanor violation of State laws requiring all government agencies to retain and provide access to public records.

The memo from the State reads, "The evidence supports criminal violations of Florida public records law and Mullin has disqualified himself from service as county attorney." The memo also stated that the State Attorney's Office agreed to forgo criminal prosecution in exchange for Mullin's resignation.

On Monday, March 14, Mullin delivered a formal letter to Nassau County Commission Chairman Aaron Bell, announcing his intent to retire effective "the last day of March, 2022." This came one day before the release of the State Attorney's Office memo declaring their findings of criminal acts by Mullin. On Tuesday, March 15, 2022 Mullin released a statement through a communication representative: "My decision to retire and the reasons set forth in my letter of March 14, 2022 stand as stated. I have reviewed the state attorney's statement released today and with all due respect, I strongly disagree with those findings. The messages which are the subject of the civil suits, were turned over to the requestors beginning in January 2019 and also provided to the State Attorney's Office in March of 2019. In addition, I drafted new procedures for maintaining and addressing personal messages on private devices. The procedures are set forth in an ordinance adopted in the fall of 2019. The ordinance placed all public record requests and maintenance under the County Attorney's Office. These procedures remain in effect today. While I do not want to be a distraction for the County, I do want to reiterate my appreciation to have represented Nassau County, Florida."

The Westside Journal also received a press release from Rayonier: Rayonier is grateful for the State Attorney's Office's efforts seeking accountability for the crimes committed against Rayonier, Raydient and the citizens of Nassau County. Rayonier raised its concerns regarding Mullin's conduct years ago, but instead of taking simple steps to mitigate the issues, the County ignored them and instead gave Mullin more control over County affairs, doubling his salary in the process. Rayonier is disappointed that the County failed to act on their own to remove a clearly compromised County Attorney, all the while wasting tax dollars litigating to defend his bad advice and him personally in multiple litigation matters. Even now, the County continues to waste significant resources defending Mullin, despite several judicial decisions finding his advice to be wrong and, according to the State Attorney's Office, criminal.

Hilliard High School Names New Head Football Coach

Dawn S. West

Hilliard Middle Senior High School administration called a special meeting Wednesday afternoon to announce the new Head Football Coach. After posting the position, a committee interviewed three candidates for the position.

HMSHS Athletic Director Jason Collins opened the announcement in front of a crowd of football players and parents. "We have made a decision. This person has the football IQ and is looking forward to the opportunity to continue to help our teams grow and prosper," said Collins. "You've seen things he has done with our offense already. We're proud to announce Waylon Cox as our Head Coach."

"I'm very excited about this opportunity. I've been with this program for 3 years. My goal is to help these kids develop physically, mentally, emotionally and academically," said Cox. "Anyone who knows me knows I'm all football, 24/7. My motto is to outwork everyone. I was always taught to get to work. I want to instill that in our players. We have to outwork the other coaches and teams. I want to teach these players how to compete. That's how we win! It all starts in the weight room. I've seen what it means for a player to continue to strengthen their bodies."

Coach Cox has been assistant coach for three years for the Flashes varsity football team.

A Word From the Publisher

What a different weekend! We had extremely warm temperatures and then ended up Sunday morning with a light freeze. Only in Florida can we be resilient enough to handle it. I know the rain was difficult for many. As for our home, our pond has returned to full again. Beginning the spring time warm temperatures with a below normal pond is not good. Of course all day Saturday, I think we had whitecaps in it! That wind was brutal.

On the other hand it was a beautiful weekend! We (my family) celebrated my mom's 90th birthday. Oh my, I'm so thankful for her and thankful that she is actually doing great. She has had her share of health issues but has really been working it all out and feeling good. Even though she has had issues, she never makes a fuss about it. I've told her so many times that her pain threshold is super high. Some of the pain she has endured has been crazy. She dealt with trigeminal neuralgia for several years, even after it was diagnosed. That was an unimaginable pain that I don't want to see anyone go through. But my mom was such a trooper. Thankfully, once she had the very serious surgery to hopefully take care of it, she hasn't had that pain again. We were just aggravated that she didn't have it earlier...but not mom. "It was all God's timing, not mine."

Oh how blessed I am to have a Godly mother (parents). With almost every conversation we have, God is brought into the discussion. I've often told her she is an angel. I am the baby of five and I'm still pretty attached to my parents. Too many times I've called mom, just to hear her voice. Quickly, she asks, "What's wrong?" I'm trying to learn that trait and do it with grace as Mom does. Somehow she never has that 'tone' that I have. Her voice is always the same. Roger has told me I act a lot like my mom but I sure do have a lot of Jim in me too!

With each card I (we) receive from mom, it includes a Bible verse and a God be with you, salutation. Her main concern for her family is that we all know Jesus as our Lord and Savior, as this is how all of us as Christians should be. Jesus is waiting for everyone to ask Him into their heart. As time continues to fly by, every minute is important not lived for Christ. Fortunately for me, I was raised in a Christian home by Christian parents with Christian values. Pretty simple, treat everyone as you want to be treated with love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. It sounds like a lot but isn't that the way we should all live? What an amazing world God has given us to live in. His mercy is new every morning... just look out your window each day. Thank you Jesus! Remember, Jesus is the only answer for a broken world. Ask Him in today.

Have a blessed week!

Animal Expo 2022

The 13th Annual Nassau County Animal Expo will be held Saturday, March 26 from 10 a.m. – 3 p.m. in the Atlantic Recreation Auditorium, 500 Atlantic Avenue in Fernandina Beach. The event is held to introduce the public to the various area rescue groups in our area and to promote adoption of rescued animals. The expo also hopes to educate the public on the importance of spay/neuter/vaccination of your animals and to promote the respect and nurturing of all creatures that need our intervention.

Several animals will be featured for adoption from all local rescue groups. Pet groomers and retailers will also be available for questions. For every 5 pounds of dry food donated, a ticket will be given to be eligible for door prizes. There will also be a Silent Auction and bake sale to help raise money for the rescue organizations. All spay/neutered and well-behaved pets on leashes are welcome! For more information call, 904-321-2267.

FSCJ Selected by Amazon as an Education Partner

Florida State College at Jacksonville (FSCJ) has been selected as an education partner for Amazon's Career Choice program, providing Amazon's hourly employees access to any Associate in Science or bachelor's degree program. In addition, Amazon employees can choose to enroll in one of the selected fast-track career certificate or technical certificate programs in industries such as automotive, aviation, health care and information technology, including an Amazon-only cohort Patient Care Technician program. A complete list of programs is available at fscj.edu/amazon.

Amazon's Career Choice program is an education benefit that empowers employees to learn new skills for career success at Amazon or elsewhere. The program meets individual learners where they are on their education journey through a variety of education and upskilling opportunities. In the U.S., the company is investing $1.2 billion to upskill more than 300,000 employees by 2025 to help move them into higher-paying, in-demand jobs.

Amazon's Career Choice program has a rigorous selection process for third-party partner educators, choosing partners that are focused on helping employees through their education programs, assisting them with job placements, and overall offering education that leads to career success.

JUST MY OPINION

Roger R. West

It's extremely clear already that Joe Biden doesn't know how to build anything except despair and ruin. His political platform of "Build Back Better" has been worse than a bull in a China shop! I have never heard 81 million people be so quiet. In all honesty, can you actually think of one positive thing that he has done since being installed in the White House? Yes, I mean installed, just like you install a toilet and that pretty much describes his presidency.

Just look at what he has done to our energy resources. In just over a year, we have gone from energy independence to energy dependence. Instead of exporting fuel, we are buying fuel from our enemies. Biden claims his policies have no bearing on the energy crisis, another of his numerous lies. He states there are plenty of oil permits available to the oil companies but are not being utilized. This is true, however the reason they are not being utilized is because the stringent regulations that he has placed on drilling would be a financial disaster to the oil companies. Why would they approach these leases knowing they are going to lose money?

Biden was totally upfront about his war on fossil fuels during his campaign. He ran his whole campaign on destroying the energy industry. Renewable energy is all he can vision, which sounds good; however as good as it sounds it is not anywhere feasible. Solar, wind and other renewables are simply not capable of meeting the high energy demands of modern day living! As Kangmin Lee states, "When prices of energy goes up, everything goes up. Our economy is built on energy for production and distribution. All products are manufactured using energy. Shelves at stores will be more barren. It'll only get worse before it can get better. All the Biden administration, Democrats and uni-party establishment care about is bulldozing through whatever globalist agenda to introduce the Great Reset at the expense of the American people so that we will own nothing and be happy."

According to the Western Journal, in Joe Biden's America, getting less is happening a whole lot more. The economist's label for what's happening to product after product is called "shrinkflation." It takes place when inflation of the kind Biden's team said it was transitory until it wasn't, starts making all the raw materials in a product cost more. Rather than make consumers pay more for the same amount of a product, something no one likes, some manufactures reduce the size of what they sell while holding the price steady. This is just a sneaky way for companies to raise the price. People will notice a price increase more readily than a few less chips in a bag or a decreased liquid amount in the container. Frito-Lays are already reducing the amount of Doritos in their 9.75 ounce bag to 9.25 ounces, but the price remains the same. Other companies such as Proctor & Gamble, Mondelez (Nabisco) and Pepsi have also started similar measures. This would not be happening if they thought this inflation was transitory. Fasten your seatbelts and hold on, we are in for the ride of our lives.

As always...that's just my opinion!

Who Are We Witnessing For?

Pastor James MacFarlane, First Alliance Church, Hilliard

One of the most common arguments that lost people use to justify their refusal to follow Jesus is the hypocrisy of those that profess to be followers of Christ. In 1 Corinthians, chapters 5 and 6, Paul refers to two different occurrences where some in the church body were sinning in such a way "...that is not tolerated even among pagans." (1 Cor 5:2). In chapter 6 Paul addresses a problem where church members are pressing lawsuits because other members of the church were "defrauding" them even though they were acting the same way themselves (v.7). They were more concerned with themselves than acting as a child of God should.

We have the same things going on in the Body of Christ today. The effect on church unity is alarming. Yet, more important is the effect this has on our witness for Christ. Scripture reminds us that we were washed, sanctified, and justified by Jesus Christ (1 Cor 6:11). We were bought with a price (1 Cor 6:28). Paul also reminds the Corinthians something that we too need to be reminded of. We know how we should be witnessing for Christ's glory, yet many chose to witness only when it is convenient. We cannot pick and choose; we must be consistent. We must act like washed, sanctified, and justified followers of Christ.

The Gospel of Christ is a loving, accepting, inclusive Gospel. Jesus does not discriminate because of where we are from, how much money we have, who our friends are or what language we speak. If this is true of the Gospel of Christ and we as His followers are called to share the Good News, shouldn't we act like it? How we live our lives is our witness. If we are judgmental and critical of those around us, the lost who are witnessing our behavior will think that all Christians behave this way. If we simply go to church on Sunday professing our love for Christ, then on Monday profess our love for our flesh through worldly behavior, we are missing the point.

Being a disciple of Christ means that we are doing our very best to be disciplined. We are showing whoever may be watching that the Holy Spirit of God is alive inside us. That Jesus is shaping us into loving, caring, people who want to bless and love on others. We must be ready to accept those who have experienced rejection. We must love those who have been spurned and cast aside. We must also be prepared to love whomever the Lord Jesus Christ puts in our path. Worldly concerns of ego, popular reputation, social standing, and financial security are distractions that the enemy will use to spoil our witness to the lost. Do not let the devil win!

Those of us that have given our lives to Christ should act like it. Our witness should be consistent, loving, accepting and have no part in worldly concerns. Be the living testimony to the love, grace, and mercy of Jesus not just today, but every day.

FSCJ's DramaWorks to Perform

Florida State College at Jacksonville's (FSCJ) DramaWorks will present a new script based on another collaboration between Tim Gilmore, FSCJ Professor of English and Ken McCulough, FSCJ Professor of Theatre. This will be Professor Ken McCulough's 55th production with FSCJ DramaWorks and will be his last show at FSCJ as he retires this year.

About the play and the production: The Mad Atlas of Virginia King tells the true story of the strange and urgent woman who tried to capture the city of Jacksonville, Florida in a single book. She marched across town daily, taking crooked and blurred photographs of old buildings about to be demolished. She wrote several versions of her book, the last containing more than 8,000 pages. Few people knew what she was up to,

but they took cover when they saw her coming.

The FSCJ DramaWorks production of "The Mad Atlas of Virginia King" features 14 student and alumni actors and eight student crew members from all areas of the First Coast and directed by Professor of Theatre Ken McCulough.

The drama will be held at FSCJ-South Campus, Nathan H. Wilson Center for the Arts, 11901 Beach Boulevard, Jacksonville, on Thursday, Friday & Saturday, March 31, April 1 & 2 at 7:30 p.m.; and Sunday, April 3 at 2 p.m. Tickets are $10 for the general public; and $5 for FSCJ faculty/staff and students (2 tickets per valid FSCJ ID) in advance. Otherwise, $10 at the door. For information and ticket reservations, call (904) 646-2222.

Financially Fighting Back - High Gas Prices Part One

Yvette Outler

Last year Florida's average gas price was $2.93 a gallon. Now with the steady increase of gas prices we face the question, "How can I afford these prices?" Since I cannot control gas prices, I am challenged to look at what I can control.

Ways to fight back:

1. Carpool – even if your friend or neighbor does not work at your same location you can still work out the details and plan accordingly. Alternate days or weeks of driving and paying for gas. You may only be able to rideshare for one or two days a week. Savings is savings. The more people in one car the more savings. Do not be quick to dismiss this idea. Give yourself permission to "test" this idea to see if you like it.
2. One trip versus three – Grocery shopping needs to be more intentional: one time a week, or twice a month. Use a list and stick to it. Pro tip: Look high and low. The highest priced items are at eye level and the best deals are on the outside of the aisles.
3. Pharmacy – If you take monthly prescriptions, use your time and gas wisely by utilizing your grocery store pharmacy to avoid another stop.
4. Buy in bulk – Consider bulk buying for things like toilet paper, detergent and large family packs of meat. The fewer trips, the more gas saved! Pro tip: I buy the large packs of meat and divide it into several meals. I wrap each meal's worth of meat in Glad Press and Seal. It wraps the meat tightly to avoid freezer burn, plus I can see what meat I have wrapped.

5. Use help provided – First Baptist Church of Callahan, The Storehouse: Free food is available twice a month, the first (10:00 a.m. -Noon) and third (4:30-6:30 p.m.) Thursday of every month. Gracie's Kitchen: Drive through and receive a hot meal for your family for free! Located at the old Yulee Middle School (86029 Pages Dairy Road, Yulee, Florida) Offered 2nd and 4th Monday of each month from 4:30-6 p.m. All of us need help sometime.

Next week I will give you part two of ways to fight back. If you have ideas that are successfully working for you, please share them with me.

New Beginnings and Milestones

Lavern Meeks Celebrates 91st Birthday

Lavern Higginbotham Meeks celebrated her 91st birthday March 7. Mrs. Lavern is a longtime Callahan resident and is always willing to help out when she can. She enjoys volunteering on Wednesday nights for the Callahan community dinner. She is a member of Callahan First United Methodist Church and is thankful for her church family. She is one special lady. She enjoys getting together with her friends and playing cards! She can be seen many times around town and also with her son David. She celebrated her special milestone in many ways, from having dinner with friends, to sharing a special dinner with family! "I am a very blessed woman and so thankful for my family and friends," said Lavern.

Julia Stearn Celebrates 90th Birthday

Julia Stearn, of Kingsland, Georgia, celebrated her 90th birthday March 12. She was born March 12, 1932 in Sequim, Washington. Being born during the depression, her parents traveled the country searching for work, as her father was a millwright. They later settled in Arkansas. She graduated from Arkadelphia High School in 1950 as did her sweetheart Jim 'Dub' Stearn. The two were married September 8, 1951. Last year, they celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary.

She enjoys going to Sunday school and church at the First Baptist Church Kingsland and loves spending time with her family. She enjoyed her special milestone with a family lunch with about 30 of her family members attending!

She and Jim have five children, Dub (deceased) and Carol Stearn of Ft. Walton Beach, Marci and David Scott of Amelia Island, Mark Stearn (Stephanie Titus) of Callahan, Gus and Christie Stearn of Fernandina Beach, and Dawn and Roger West of Hilliard. They also have 12 grandchildren; and 21 great-grandchildren.

NCSO Employees of the Year

On Wednesday, March 9, 2022, the Nassau County Sheriff's Office held their annual awards ceremony to recognize the 2021 Employees of the Year. NCSO employees, family members and friends attended the ceremony at the Sheriff's Administration Building to honor Sheriff's Office employees and volunteers who did outstanding accomplishments during 2021.

Among those honored were: Volunteer of the Year – Christa Kornoski; Chaplain of the Year – Pastor Gerald Wollitz; Civilian Employee of the Year – Jayme Woods; Communications Officer of the Year – Joseph Hall; Detention Deputy of the year – Deputy Camisha Miller; Patrol Deputy of the year – Deputy Michael Morris; Investigator of the Year – Detective Joshua Carter; Supervisor of the year – Lieutenant Ricky Rowell.

Life Saving Awards were given to Deputy Garth Holton, Deputy Britny Blaz, Deputy Richard Weigle, Deputy Caleb Delacruz, Deputy Haley Conner, Deputy Chuck Reagor, Deputy Nathan Hilliard, Detective Joshua Carter, Sergeant Jeremy Hyers, Sergeant Monty Wettstein and Lieutenant Joshua Hyers.

Special Recognition Award was given to Pastor Lynn Hyatt of First Baptist Church in Callahan.

Medal Of Honor Award was presented to the family of Deputy Jack Gwynes and Deputy Joshua Moyers who both passed away in the line of duty during 2021.

"We have an extremely talented and dedicated group of law enforcement professionals and support staff who are truly committed to serving the public with professionalism and pride," said Sheriff Bill Leeper. "Today's ceremony shows the strength of this agency and the amazing level of service and passion our members have for protecting our community."

American Legion Vandalized Friday

According to the Nassau County Sheriff's office, sometime late Friday night March 11 until early Saturday morning March 12 it appeared someone broke through the back door of the American Legion Post 401 and entered the building sometime between 11:30 p.m. on Friday night when it closed and 8:05 a.m. Saturday morning. An ATM was pried open and a safe was broken into. There was damage to the office door and liquor bottles behind the bar broken. It is unknown how many items were taken with the value until an inventory can be made. The burglary is still under investigation at this time.

The building did have surveillance cameras, but were not functioning properly. It is unknown at this time if there was any relation to the Hagan Ace Hardware burglary. If anyone knows any information about either burglary, they are asked to contact NCSO Detectives.

HATS OFF TO COACH JOHN PATE

Jessie L. Pickett

Great coaches are positive, enthusiastic, supportive, trusting, focused, goal-oriented, knowledgeable, observant, patient and a clear communicator. Great leaders have a vision, are an inspiration and introduce strategic critical thinking, responsibility, accountability and dependability.

From the view of the majority of his players and parents, Coach John Pate has displayed the epitome of these characteristics. He has had quite a career. After serving his country as a US Army Infantry Officer, he began his football coaching career in 1984. He was a part of five national championship staffs while serving as an assistant at Georgia Southern University. He served as the head football coach at Union College, Lees-McRae College, and Hamline University and more, most recently head coach at Fernandina Beach High School and Hilliard Middle-Senior High School.

Coach Pate stepped into Hilliard's suffering program in 2018 with 17 rostered varsity players. Since then, he has turned the program around completely. This past season, a three-team program, varsity, junior varsity and middle school boasted 90 players and the best program in Nassau County. For the past two seasons, the Flashes have gone undefeated in the regular season and made it to the second round of state playoffs. The success of the varsity program hasn't gone unnoticed by neighboring schools and is even having trouble making a schedule due to their success. For the past two seasons, Pate was named the District 5 Class 1A Coach of the Year. There is no question as to the strides that this program has made since Pate came on board.

It's no secret that Pate demands the absolute best of his players and expects 100% accountability. He has created a football culture in Hilliard with a work ethic that is sorely lacking in today's society. The players are expected to be at every practice and to be there on time; to be in uniform and ready to work. When they're not practicing, they're in the weight room. He's usually the first member of the faculty to be at the school every morning and one of the last to leave during football season. He sets the example. When the players arrive, he's there, when they leave, he commends their effort and asks about their grades. A coach's effort is often matched by his players and it has become noticeably so in Hilliard. He's taught our young men a work ethic and accountability that, as a parent, I'm so thankful for.

I've worked hand-in-hand with Coach Pate for the past two football seasons as a parent and member of the Pride of Hilliard Football Club (booster club). I have to commend him on the amount of respect he has gained from his players. He's tough, serious and uses tough love to get the job done. As a photographer, I've been on the sidelines and witnessed him pour determination into our young men like fertilizer. He has a great coaching staff behind him and they are all very goal-oriented. They set the bar and challenge the players to reach it every day. He respects his players and with that, he makes them dig deep to do things they never knew they could. It's been said that, "The greatest leader is not necessarily the one who does the greatest things. He is the one that gets the people to do the greatest things". In my eyes, no other words describe Coach John Pate better. He's given our young men inspiration when needed, chewed them out on the sidelines when needed, listened to them when needed and instilled in them a love for the game of football. Thank you will never be enough from your players or from your Hilliard parents. Thank you for being tough on them, loving them, mentoring and maturing them into productive young men who are sure to do great things on and off the field.

We look forward to seeing what Coach Waylon Cox brings to the team, but there's no doubt, your 'encouragement' will be missed on Flashes Field.
