Payment and Cancellations

All guests are required to place a 50% down payment on the date of booking or no later than 30 days prior to the event date. The remaining 50% payment must be paid to Maine Wilderness Pursuit or its booking agent no later than the day of the hunt. All deposits and payments are fully non-refundable except for weather or mechanical issue. In the event you should cancel your scheduled trip within 30 days prior to hunt, any and all deposits and payments paid by you shall be deemed fully forfeited and non-refundable and shall not be returned.

If your trip is canceled at any point due to prolonged dangerous weather conditions or mechanical faults in the days prior to the commencement of the trip, we will reschedule your trip or issue a refund. If we cannot reschedule your trip within the next 12 months from the date of cancellation, we will refund you in full. In the event your trip is cancelled due to dangerous weather conditions on or after the date of commencement of the trip, you shall not be refunded.

We reserve the right to terminate or cancel the remainder of your trip with no refunds of any payments already made by you in the event such cancellation or termination is necessary for the safety or well-being of all parties involved, or inappropriate or illegal behavior of the client. Factors or events which may lead to the cancellation of a hunting outing or the trip in its entirety include, but are not limited to, being intoxicated during a hunt; improper or irresponsible handling or discharging of firearms; the destruction of any landowner property; disrespectful actions towards any guides, or other individuals; failure to follow the rules and guidelines of any hunts; or any other actions which are unlawful or illegal.

Hunting Permits

All guests are responsible for obtaining their own hunting permits at their own expense. Permits for certain types of game may expire, close purchase windows, or sell out from time to time; it is your responsibility to ensure that you have obtained the requisite permit(s) prior to your scheduled visit. In the event you fail to obtain your own hunting permit, Maine Wilderness Pursuit reserves the right to cancel a hunt or trip at its own discretion with no refund.
