

The Feast of Life

The light of life began with need,
Food on our plate and apple seed.
Early Dawn greets with smoke aloft,
The smell of man's feast, rich and soft.
To live, we must have food, indeed,
The art of life, taste buds concede.
Cheers to friends with bellies full,
Let's share a recipe, joy to pull.

