

© 2019 Cindy Jackson

Thank you Jesus, for I am in the process of receiving from You healing for my broken heart!
I choose to trust You and give You thanks for all the things that are right and good in my life.
Even for the things that I don't understand about right now. I choose to look at those things above and off the things of the earth. Only You are able to wash me clean all the way through. I receive all that You have for me!