

© 2019 Cindy Jackson

Your word says that I have patience because You are in me. You are the one who holds everything together. Why do I struggle when You simply call me to rest in You? I forget and try to do things my own way and then I get hurt, frustrated or waste time. Life is hard but You promise that You will never leave me or forsake me. Please forgive me for when I forget to ask you for help in even the simplest things!