A Hero's Welcome

By Robert Longley

Time to come home dear brother
Your tour of duty through
You've given as much as anyone
Could be expected to do

Just a few steps further
The smoke will start to clear
Others here will guide you
You have no need of fear

You have not failed your brothers
You clearly gave it all
And through your selfless actions
Others will hear the call

So take your place of honor
Among those who have gone before
And know you will be remembered
For now and evermore

THE NEVADA LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MEMORIAL

The Nevada Law Enforcement Officers Memorial is a monument in Carson City, NV, honoring officers who have died in the line of duty since 1861. As of May 2025, it contained the names of 157 fallen officers. The memorial is managed and maintained by the Legislative Police.

Location and Visiting

The memorial is located on the grounds of the Nevada Legislature and is open to the public 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, with free admission.

Location: 395 S Carson St, Carson City, NV 89701.

Hours: Open 24 hours a day.

Admission: Free of charge.

Annual Events

An annual memorial ceremony, open to the public, is held in Carson City each May during National Police Week to honor the fallen officers. The ceremony often concludes a multi-day, 400-mile "Memorial Run" from Las Vegas to Carson City, during which officers carry a baton inscribed with the names of the fallen.

For more information about the memorial, the annual events, or how to support its maintenance, you can visit the Nevada Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Commission website.

HONORING AND COMMEMORATING SERVICE AND SACRIFICE

About The Memorial

The National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial is centered in the 400 block of E Street, NW, Washington, DC and is the nation's monument to law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty. Dedicated on October 15, 1991, the Memorial honors federal, tribal, state, and local law enforcement officers who have made the ultimate sacrifice for the safety and protection of our nation and its people.

The Memorial features two curving, 304-foot-long blue-gray limestone walls. Carved on these walls are the names of more than 23,000 officers who died in the line of duty throughout U.S. history, dating back to the first known death in 1786. Unlike many other memorials in Washington, DC, the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial is ever-changing: new names of fallen officers are added to it each spring, in conjunction with National Police Week.

Designed by architect Davis Buckley, the Memorial sits on three acres of federal park land in an area of Washington, DC called Judiciary Square, the historic seat of our nation's judicial branch of government. The Memorial grounds boast plush carpets of grass, nearly 60,000 plants and 128 trees. Each April, more than 10,000 daffodils bloom at the site, providing a burst of color for visitors. The Memorial's central plaza features an intricate paving pattern and a bronze medallion with the Memorial Fund logo: a blue shield with a red rose draped across it.

Bordering the Memorial's beautifully landscaped park are the two tree-lined "pathways of remembrance" where the names of the fallen officers are engraved. Each of the pathway entrances is adorned with a powerful statuary grouping of an adult lion protecting its cubs. Sculpted by Raymond Kaskey, the bronze statues symbolize the protective role of law enforcement officers and convey the strength, courage and valor that are hallmarks of those who serve and protect.

A number of commemorative ceremonies are held at the Memorial each year, and the site is visited by nearly a quarter million people annually. The Memorial's beauty and tranquility make it a special place for reflection, contemplation or just a quiet moment away from the hustle and bustle of city life.
