COVID-19 in Wisconsin: Past, Present, and Future

We have a real treat for our April virtual meeting. For the past year Dr. John Raymond Sr. has been the local Dr. Fauci in regard to COVID-19's affect on Wisconsin employer and employees. The President and CEO of The Medical College of Wisconsin, Dr. Raymond has been a fantastic resource on where we have been and where we are going in terms of the virus.

The Milwaukee Business Journal named Dr. Raymond their 2020 Executive of The Year saying, "Dr. John Raymond Sr. established the standard in 2020 for communicating first with southeast Wisconsin businesses and then the broader community on the seriousness of Covid-19 and strategies to address the coronavirus."
