HOW DOES OUR MERCHANT SERVICE PARTNERS PROGRAM WORK?

To reach more merchants, we offer a merchant services partner program to individuals and companies who want to help build our clientele. Each successful referral will be rewarded a recurring revenue based on the transactions from your active referral.

You, as a partner, will not just earn from your referrals. You are also helping businesses thrive in this economy that prioritizes credit card payments.

Merchant service partners get 20% up to 30% of recurring revenue based on your successful referrals. You will receive the monthly income 45 days after your referred merchant begins processing payments. In some cases, an upfront bonus may also be paid which would be split 50/50. It's as easy as that!

So, if you know of businesses needing a credit card processing solution or would like to get lower credit card transaction fees, refer them to us. We will provide them with a custom solution to fit their needs. And you can benefit from their success as well.

RECURRING REVENUE

Other referral programs only give a one-time bonus for each successful applicant. This means you will have to be constantly on the lookout for businesses to refer to make it worthwhile.

But with TMR, you will get a monthly revenue percentage from your active referrals. As long as the merchant is in business, you will also receive a constant income for your initial efforts. This is a better incentive for partners looking for a steady stream of income.
