

CUE'S GAMEROOM

Starters & Shareables

Chippies 3 - With a Dip 4.5

One rippled chip turns into a dozen and suddenly you've lost all self control.

Fries 6 - With Gravy 8 - Routine Poutine 11

Never trust a person that doesn't love a great French fry.

Garlic Parm Fries 8

Scrumptious, but not safe for Vampires or first dates.

Good Ol' Onion Rings 7.5

Deep fried nostalgia. So classic, they should come with a jukebox.

Chicken Strips & Fries (two pc) 10 - (four pc) 14.5

Adulthood can wait. This is for the nine-year-old in you.

Pound of Wings 15 - Double it Up 25

El Aviso: These little firecrackers may cause a sudden burst of joy.

Broccoli Cheddar Bites 13.5

This was the only way broccoli was getting invited to the party.

Battered Mushrooms 13.5

Battered and bruised, but in the emotional-support-snack kind of way.

Potato Skins 14.5

Regular, Veggie, or Mexi. There's potatoes, then there's great potatoes, then there's these.

All ingredients are sourced as locally as possible. Okanagan 1st, Canada 2nd. *Except for the Italian Pizza.

Any allergies the kitchen should be made aware of, or are we all going to find out together?

Salads

Garden House 7 / 10

Do your body a favor. It's the only place you live.

Spring Mix Caesar 7 / 10

Allegedly invented by an Italian named Caesar Cardini, in Mexico on American Independence Day.

Greek Salad 7 / 10

We do ours a little differently, because we can. Still, it's unmistakeably delicious.
