Here is a description of the admission process: We have an open Enrollment policy. The trainings operate on an open enrollment basis, which means that individuals can register and enroll at any time throughout the year, subject to availability. There are no specific enrollment periods or deadlines.

1. Orientation: All prospective students must complete an orientation session with the staff at Recoveries R US. The orientation session is designed to determine the eligibility of clients for admission. During this orientation, students will learn about the program, its objectives, and the support services available. It is an opportunity for students to ask questions, familiarize themselves with the program requirements, and understand the expectations of the training programs.

2. Pre-Exam: After the orientation, students will be required to complete a pre-exam. This exam assesses the student's knowledge and understanding of the recovery process. It helps the admissions team determine the student's readiness for the program.

3. Proof of Eligibility: Clients must provide proof of eligibility for admission to the training programs. This can be in the form of a New York State ID or an equivalent identification document. Clients applying for CASAC must also comply with the requirements mandated by the New York State Office of Addiction Services and Supports (OASAS). The purpose of this requirement is to verify the client's residency and ensure that they meet the eligibility criteria for the programs.

4. Proof of Employment (if applicable): If students are employed, they must provide proof of employment. This can be in the form of a pay stub, employment contract, or a letter from the employer. Proof of employment helps the admissions team understand the students' current commitments and schedule.

5. 500-Word Essay: Students must complete a 500-word essay explaining their motivation and reasons for wanting to become a counselor, recovery coach, or peer advocate. This essay allows the admissions team to assess the student's commitment, passion, and understanding of the role.

ENROLLMENT PROCESS

6. Professional Reference Letter: Students must submit a professional reference letter from someone who can attest to their suitability for the training programs. This reference letter should highlight the client's qualities, skills, and experiences that make them a good fit for the programs. It can be from a supervisor, mentor, or professional contact.

7. Access VR Clearance: Clients applying for funding through Access VR must obtain clearance from Access VR before starting the training programs. Access VR provides financial assistance to individuals with disabilities to support their vocational training. The clearance process ensures that the necessary funding is in place before the client begins the training.

8. Special Accommodations: The training programs strive to provide appropriate accommodations for students with special needs. This may include seating arrangements, such as allowing students to sit in the front of the classroom if they have difficulty seeing from the back. The training programs will work closely with the student and any relevant support services to ensure that their needs are met.

9. Individualized Education Plan (IEP): Students with special needs may have an Individualized Education Plan (IEP) or a similar document outlining their specific accommodation and support requirements. The training programs will review the IEP and work with the student to implement the necessary accommodations and support services.

It is important for students with special needs to communicate their requirements and provide any necessary documentation during the admission process. This will help the training programs and support services to better understand and address their specific needs.

Please note that the specific accommodations and support services may vary depending on the individual needs of the student and the resources available within the training programs. It is advisable for students with special needs to contact the admissions office directly to discuss their specific requirements and ensure that the necessary accommodations can be provided.

Note: This is an updated description of the admission process and may be subject to change. It is recommended to contact the admissions office for the CASAC, CRPA, and CARC training programs for the most accurate and up-to-date information regarding the admission process and required documents.

TRANSFER OF CREDIT FOR CASAC 350-HOUR CURRICULUM AND PRIOR COURSE COMPLETION

Recoveries R US provides a clear process for students transferring credits toward the CASAC 350-Hour Education and Training Program (ETP) and other training programs. Credits from OASAS-certified CASAC 350 providers are accepted, allowing students to apply completed coursework toward their training requirements. Students should coordinate with their previous provider to submit certificates of completion or transcripts for evaluation.

For students completing sections of the CASAC 350 curriculum with multiple providers, Recoveries R US will issue a full 350-hour certificate upon verifying that all requirements are met.

For students with coursework from non-OASAS providers, such as colleges or universities, applications must first be submitted to the OASAS Credentialing Unit for review. The transfer credit evaluation process reviews course content, clock hours, and learning outcomes to determine relevance to the student's program. Students are notified in writing of accepted or denied credits, with explanations provided for any denials. If credits are denied, students may submit an appeal to the President, with final decisions communicated within 30 days.

Students transferring to another institution must submit a written request and will receive an official transcript reflecting completed coursework and clock hours. Tuition adjustments may be available for accepted transfer credits, with pro-rated reductions applied. Students should consult administrative staff to understand how transfer credits may impact financial aid.

STUDENT ATTENDANCE

Consistent and timely attendance is a cornerstone of success in the vocational training programs at Recoveries R US. Students are required to attend all scheduled classes, arrive on time, and complete the clock hours mandated for their program to meet training requirements. Attendance is monitored closely to ensure students are on track to achieve their educational goals, with any discrepancies addressed promptly. Failure to meet attendance standards can result in administrative actions, including dismissal, underscoring the importance of compliance.

Tardiness is defined as arriving after the scheduled start time of a class. Persistent tardiness disrupts the flow of training and may be treated as an absence if it occurs frequently. Students are expected to notify the school at least one hour before the start of class if they anticipate being late. Repeated tardiness without valid reasons can lead to administrative actions such as warnings, or the need to make up missed hours. If left unresolved, ongoing tardiness may result in dismissal from the program.

Absences are categorized as excused or unexcused. Each student is allowed up to three excused absences per training cycle, which must be made up within the following cycle to remain in good standing. Planned absences, such as medical appointments or family obligations, should be communicated in advance, with a valid reason provided. For unforeseen absences, such as illness or emergencies, students are required to notify the school as soon as possible. If absent for three or more consecutive days, documentation, such as a physician's note, must be submitted.

Excessive unexcused absences, especially without prior notice, may result in probation or dismissal.

Making up missed hours on the next training cycle is mandatory for students with excused absences. These hours must be completed within the designated time frame to ensure the student meets the program's required clock hours. Failure to complete make-up hours within the allotted period may result in repeating the program cycle or, in some cases, the entire program.

STUDENT ATTENDANCE

Students who face disciplinary actions or dismissal due to attendance issues have the right to appeal. Appeals must be submitted in writing to the administrative staff and should include valid reasons, along with any supporting documentation, such as medical notes or other relevant evidence. The appeal process allows the student to explain their circumstances, and the administrative team will review the appeal thoroughly before providing a final decision in writing. If approved, students may be placed on a probationary plan with specific conditions to address their attendance.

Recoveries R US is committed to supporting students in overcoming attendance challenges. Students experiencing difficulties are encouraged to communicate with the administrative staff to explore potential accommodations or solutions, such as adjusting schedules or accessing additional resources. By maintaining open communication and adhering to attendance standards, students can successfully complete their training and achieve their vocational goals.

Appeals:

Students may appeal decisions related to their withdrawal or financial obligations by submitting a written appeal with supporting documentation to the program coordinator within the specified timeframe.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Recoveries R US provides a Leave of Absence (LOA) option for students facing medical or personal challenges. Students must have completed at least 50% of their program and be in good standing to request a leave. LOA requests should be submitted in writing at least two weeks in advance, unless it is an emergency, and must include the reason, duration, and supporting documentation.

The leave duration cannot exceed half the program length (e.g., 175 hours or 29 days for CASAC training). Multiple leaves may be allowed, but the total time must remain within this limit. Students are expected to communicate regularly with staff during their leave and confirm their return date at least one week prior to resuming training. Upon return, students will rejoin at the point where they left off, provided space is available and program requirements are met. Re-evaluation may be required for medical leaves.

Students on leave of absence will not be required to pay program fees during their absence. However, any missed training sessions or assessments may need to be made up upon their return, subject to the program coordinator's discretion.

Recoveries R US is dedicated to fostering an inclusive and supportive learning environment that ensures equal opportunities for all. Discrimination based on sex, race, ethnic origin, or religion is strictly prohibited in all aspects of the vocational training program, including admissions, curriculum, instruction, student services, and employment. This commitment reflects the core values of fairness, respect, and diversity.

All participants, employees, and stakeholders are expected to uphold these principles by contributing to a respectful and inclusive environment. Concerns about discrimination or harassment should be raised through the grievance procedure, where they will be promptly and thoroughly investigated. Appropriate actions, such as corrective measures, support for affected individuals, or disciplinary action, will be taken to resolve issues and prevent recurrence.

Recoveries R US is committed to promoting diversity and inclusivity while respecting the unique backgrounds and perspectives of all individuals. By celebrating these differences, the program creates a learning environment where everyone is valued and treated equitably. This commitment to equal treatment is shared with all participants and stakeholders to ensure understanding and alignment with the organization's mission.

STUDENT CONDUCT AND TERMINATIONS

Recoveries R US is committed to maintaining a safe, respectful, and productive learning environment. To ensure this, clear expectations are set for behavior, participation, and progress throughout the program. When challenges arise, Recoveries R US strives to work collaboratively with students to address concerns and provide support wherever possible.

In certain cases, students may be removed from the program due to persistent issues such as:

- Behavioral Issues: Disruptive, abusive, or threatening behavior.
- Non-Compliance: Failure to meet attendance, participation, or code of conduct standards.
- Program Requirements: Inability to meet training or certification standards.
- Health and Safety: Behavior posing a risk to self or others.
- Professional Standards: Failure to meet expectations for future certification or advocacy roles.

If a student is removed, they will receive written notification detailing the reasons for the decision and any conditions for re-enrollment. This communication also includes referrals to appropriate support services, such as vocational rehabilitation, counseling, or alternative training programs, to assist students in continuing their personal and professional growth. Students are encouraged to update their contact information to ensure they receive all necessary communications.

Students who wish to challenge a removal decision may appeal by submitting a written request within 10 business days. Appeals are thoroughly reviewed, and students may be asked to provide additional documentation to support their case. The final decision is communicated in writing, providing clarity on the outcome and next steps. Students may file complaints informally or formally using the Student Grievance Form. Complaints are addressed within 24 hours, with non-retaliation policies in place.

For students seeking to re-enroll after removal, specific conditions must be met, which are outlined at the time of removal. Applications for re-enrollment are reviewed by the Program Coordinator, and final approval is determined based on the student's readiness to meet program expectations and available space in the program. Re-enrolled students will resume their training at the appropriate point, ensuring a seamless transition back into the program.

All actions, decisions, and referrals are documented to ensure transparency and accountability. Recoveries R US remains committed to supporting students in overcoming challenges and achieving success in their vocational training journey.

TRANSFER STUDENTS/CREDIT FOR PRIOR COURSE COMPLETION (CASAC-350 AND/OR COLLEGE CREDIT-BEARING)

The New York State Office of Addiction Services and Supports (OASAS) requires all Certified CASAC 350-Hour Curriculum Providers to accept coursework completed at other OASAS-certified providers, ensuring students receive credit for prior education. Students or training providers must coordinate with the previous institution to obtain certificates of completion or transcripts, and no review from the OASAS Credentialing Unit is needed.

If a student completes part of a curriculum elsewhere but finishes a section with the current provider, a full 350-hour certificate should be issued upon verifying that all one-time requirements have been met.

For students with coursework from non-OASAS-approved colleges, they must submit their application to the OASAS Credentialing Unit for evaluation. Providers may accept review summaries from OASAS as proof of transcript evaluation and issue section certificates accordingly.

For coursework completed before the implementation of the standardized CASAC 350-hour curriculum on September 1, 2013, providers have the discretion to grant credit in accordance with their policies and procedures. This may involve assessing the student's knowledge retention, providing supplemental materials on updated addiction-related practices, or incorporating changes in curriculum content. Ensuring students are adequately trained under current standards is essential for maintaining the integrity of the addiction services workforce.

For any questions, contact the OASAS Learning and Development Unit via email at training@oasas.ny.gov.

CERTIFIED RECOVERY PEER ADVOCATE (CRPA)/CERTIFIED ADDICTION RECOVERY COACH (CARC)

Peer support services are an important part of the treatment and recovery process. Certified Recovery Peer Advocates (CRPAs) & CARCS draw from personal experience with substance use, and professional training to provide non-clinical support services as identified in the patient's treatment or recovery plan.

CRPAs & CARCs may also help those in treatment/recovery in the development of recovery plans, effective coping habits, and life skills for navigating recovery. Although peer services emphasize the knowledge and wisdom of lived experience with addiction, peers are encouraged to be extremely calculated in how they share their story or pull from first-hand knowledge to ensure that it benefits program participants. Visit InUnity Alliance Website here to learn more

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

To learn more about the requirements to become a Certified Recovery Peer Advocate (CRPA) or a Certified Addiction Recovery Coach (CARC), visit: ASAP-NYCB Requirements.

CERTIFIED RECOVERY PEER ADVOCATE (CRPA)

The Certified Recovery Peer Advocate (CRPA) credential is the Medicaid-billable peer recovery certification in New York State. The certification process involves completing required training, gaining supervised peer recovery experience, passing a competency-based exam, and adhering to professional ethical standards. Candidates can apply for a CRPA-Provisional while gaining experience or go directly for full CRPA certification if they meet all requirements. The process ensures that peer advocates are well-trained and qualified to support individuals in recovery.

To learn more about the Six Steps to CRPA Certification, visit: Six Steps to CRPA.

CRPA-PROVISIONAL

Upon completing training, candidates can apply for CRPA-Provisional if they meet the age and education requirements. This certification allows holders to work in Medicaid-reimbursable peer roles across New York State (OASAS-licensed agencies). However, CRPA-Provisional is time-limited and expires after 24 months, regardless of employment status and this cannot be extended.

To move from CRPA-Provisional to full certification, candidates must complete 500 hours of role experience, including 25 hours of supervision, and pass the competency-based IC&RC Peer Recovery exam within the 24-month period. Role experience includes non-clinical, one-on-one conversations designed to support individuals in building recovery capital, and it can be voluntary, paid, full or part-time, and in any setting where the role is utilized.

Candidates with 500 hours of experience may skip CRPA-Provisional and apply directly for full CRPA. Certification staff will pre-register these candidates for the exam following Board review.

CERTIFIED ADDICTION RECOVERY COACH (CARC)

The Certified Addiction Recovery Coach (CARC) credential is designed for individuals who support others in achieving and maintaining recovery from addiction. Recovery coaches work to remove barriers, generate recovery options, and connect individuals with necessary support services to help them build recovery capital. To become CARC certified, candidates must complete 60 hours of approved training, affirm adherence to the ASAP-NYCB Code of Ethical Conduct, and pass the Recovery Coach Exam based on 27 role competencies.

8 IMPORTANT CHARACTERISTICS OF ADULT LEARNERS

Adults are characterized by maturity, self-confidence, autonomy, Solid decision-making and are generally more practical, multi-tasking, purposeful, self-directed, experienced and less open-minded and receptive to change. All these traits affect your motivation, as well as your ability to learn.

Self-direction

Adults feel the need to take responsibility for their lives and decisions and this is why it's important for you to have control over your learning. Therefore, self assesment, peer relationships, multiple learning options and initial, yet subtle support are all imperative.

Practical and results-oriented

Adult learners are usually practical, resent theory, need information that can be immediately applicable to their professional needs, and generally prefer practical knowledge that will improve their skills, facilitate their work and boost their confidence. This is why our course will cover your individual needs and have a utilitarian content.

Less open-minded and therefore more resistant to change

Maturity and profound life experience usually lead to rigidity, which is the enemy of learning. We provide the "why" behind the change, new concepts that can be linked to already established ones, and promote the need to explore.

Slower learning yet more integrative knowledge

Aging does affect learning. Adults tend to learn less rapidly with age. However the depth of learning tends to increase over time, navigate knowledge and skills to unprecedented personal levels.

Use personal Experience as a resource

Adults have lived longer, seen and done more, have the tendency to link their past experiences and validate new concepts based on prior learning. Our classes are with adults that have similar life experience levels, encourage discussion and sharing and generally create a learning community..

Motivation

Learning in adulthood is usually voluntary. Thus, it's a personal choice to attend school, in order to improve job skills and achieve professional growth. This motivation is the driving force behind learning and this is why it's crucial to tap into your intrinsic impetus with the thought-provoking material that will question conventional wisdom and stimulate your mind.

8 IMPORTANT CHARACTERISTICS OF ADULT LEARNERS

Multi-level responsibilities

Adult learners have a lot to juggle; Family, Friends, Work and the need for personal quality time. This is why it's more difficult for an adult to make room for learning, while it's absolutely crucial to prioritize. If your life is already demanding, then your learning outcome will be compromised. Taking that under consideration, we have created a flexible, program to accommodate busy schedules.

High expectations

Adult learners have high expectations. They want to be taught about things that will be useful to their work, expect to have immediate results, seek for a course that will worth their while and not be a waste of their time and money. This is why we created a course that will maximize and meet your individual needs and address all your learning challenges.

THREE GENERAL LEARNING STYLES

Visual learners rely on pictures. They love graphs, diagrams, and illustrations. "Show me" is their motto. They often sit in the front of the classroom to avoid visual obstruction and to the teacher. We will provide handouts, utilizing power point presentation and social media ,YouTube,videos etc, to compliment visual learning style.

Auditory learners listen carefully to all sounds associated with the learning. "Tell me" is their motto. They will pay close attention to the sound of the instructors voice and all of their subtle messages, and they will actively participate in discussions.

Tactile or kinesthetic learners need to physically do something to understand it. Their motto is "Let me do it". They trust their feelings and emotions about what they're learning. We provide interactive group and individual participation , Role playing/ Mock Sessions Internship will provide hands on training.

Most people use all three styles while they're learning and of course this is logical since we all have five senses, barriers any disabilities but one style almost always is preferred. No matter which learner you are, we cater to the adult learner...taking into consideration the different pathways to learning.
