

MAKING MOTION PICTURES UNDER DIFFICULTIES: Fourteen-year-old George Breakstone, actor, is shown practicing on snowshoes as a means of transportation from point to point at the movie camp in Clearwater forest. The location company was cut off from its base of supply several times by raging blizzards. Several members of the party were ill with influenza and fear of epidemic caused frenzied calls for medical assistance. The influenza scare turned out to be bad colds. (Spokesman-Review-AP photo.)
