

EXPLORERS	Badge	Main criteria	Other criteria
Explorers	Emergency Aid Staged badge 4 & 5	4 - Stage 3 plus heart attack, head injury, suspected spinal injury, broken bone, sprain/strain, meningitis. 5 - Stage 4 plus stroke, diabetes, allergies, seizure.	Stage 4 must be in the form of formal training. Stage 5; 6-8 hours training, exceeds first response training.
Explorers	Survival Skills Activity Badge	Preventing and treating extreme heat or cold, multiple fire lighting techniques, different types of fire, prepare rabbit or fish to cook, water filtration,	Distress signals, basic actions whilst awaiting rescue, catching food, foraging, make a piece of equipment, direction finding without a compass, survival exercise.

We can fulfil the criteria for badges offering various options including weekly meetings, full days in a suitable location or a number of half days.

The final cost will depend on the level of input you want from Dragon Adventures.

Emergency Aid Staged Badge 4/5

Stages 4 and 5 of this badge require training to be delivered by an adult with 'relevant knowledge'.

We can go 1 step further, as the provider of recognised first aid qualifications we can offer certificated courses - ideal for future employers or university applications. Also useful for Duke of Edinburgh Expeditions or an alternative to Module K for Young Leaders.

Certificates are valid for 3 years.

Stage 4 requires 3 to 6 hours of training and stage 5 requires 6-8 hours of training.

Take a look here for an idea of what we offer and contact us for more information of how the course can be broken down for weekly meetings or half day sessions.

Also take a look at the Scouts pricing page for prices on our most popular courses.

Survival Skills Activity Badge

If an Explorer has completed the relevant first aid qualification we wouldn't need to cover cold/heat. If not this is a session on it's own.

The criteria require multiple sessions to cover and practice the skills involved.

Please contact us with your idea of how much you want us to cover.