

ESCONDIDO HIGH SCHOOL MARCHING BAND

The Eastern Samar National Comprehensive High School (ESNCHS) Marching Band is a high school marching band and non-profit organization based in Borongan City, Philippines.

At 100 members and growing, it is the biggest marching band in the province.

The marching band's roots can be traced back to military-style performances until 2024.

After being inspired by HBCU marching bands in the United States, the group adapted to show band style, aiming to become the first in the province.

The marching band pays homage to HBCU traditions by deeply studying the history, culture, and style behind the art—honoring the legacy not just with sound, but with understanding, purpose, and respect.
