

Ontario Tactical Advisory Board
Range Practice with Direct Action Combat Performance

This range practice will provide officers the opportunity to integrate their service pistol and carbine rifle while receiving exposure to the Marathon Target System. The MTS is a training tool designed to challenge and enhance tactical marksmanship abilities.

Direct Action will provide live-fire drills specifically designed to produce threat discrimination, malfunction drills under duress, and positional / transitional drills at various distances.

The robot targets will act as fleeing subjects running towards the officers while armed with knife or gun. The robots will test the tactical officer with unpredictable movement patterns and speeds.
