Helping You Build Better!

Consulting,

Training,

Construction Services

I have spent 22 years as a heavy civil construction contractor

18 years as a roadway contractor

16 years as a concrete paving contractor

8 years as an ownership partner in a mid-sized concrete paving firm

- I can offer a contractor minded but neutral constructability review to your next project. I can give insights to phasing, joint plans, and what it takes to build your next concrete project and reduce conflicts during construction
- I can educate your inspectors on what watch out for while building your next concrete project. Training inspectors on what is important to achieve the long life performance you expect from concrete.
- If conflicts do arise on the project I can help facilitate a project first approach to finding a resolution between the contractor and the agency.
- I also offer training for maintenance crews to properly repair and maintain your current concrete assets
