

Welcome to THE SARDINE RUN OF MAGDALENA BAY

pacific.divetrips

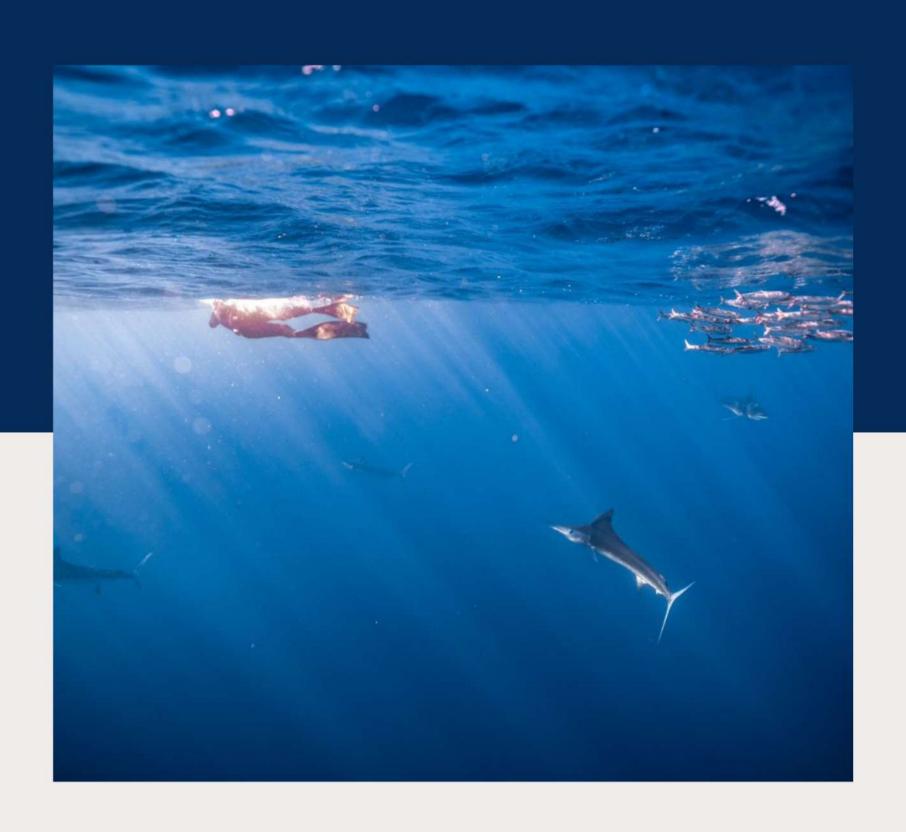

- Nov-Dec -2025

MAGDALENA BAY IS LOCATED ON THE PACIFIC COAST OF BAJA CALIFORNIA SUR, MEXICO. THIS BREATHTAKING BAY SPANS 50 KILOMETERS, ACCOMPANIED BY KILOMETERS OF CANALS, LAGOONS, AND MANGROVES.

THE PERFECT TIME TO VISIT

Every autumn, the waters off the coast of Magdalena Bay experience a significant ocean upwelling that merges with warmer waters, resulting in ideal conditions for large schools of sardines in the vibrant cobalt blue ocean attracting a lot of predators.

Exploring the marine biodiversity of Magdalena Bay offers a distinctive experience that immerses you in a captivating realm teeming with life and stunning natural beauty. This area of Baja California Sur is celebrated as a marine sanctuary, where a variety of marine species come together, making it an essential destination for nature enthusiasts and marine life lovers alike.

As you venture into the waters of Magdalena Bay, you'll come across an impressive array of species. Here, grey whales and humpback whales arrive to mate and give birth, alongside dolphins, sea turtles, sea lions, and numerous species of seabirds. Engaging with and observing these creatures in their natural environment is a profound experience that deepens your connection to the vast and delicate marine ecosystem.
