

KAMERON WHITE MCDANIEL

Lexington, KY | Kameron.white@uky.edu

EDUCATION

University of Kentucky Doctoral Student	2019-
University of Louisville M.Ed. Counseling and Personnel Services: Concentration School Counseling and Guidance	2017
University of Kentucky B.S. Family and Consumer Science Education	2014

AWARDS AND HONORS

Pre-Three Minute Thesis Competition winner, University of Kentucky	2019
Outstanding Research Presentation in School Counseling	2017
American School Counselor Association 2017 Conference Ambassador	2017
WHAS One Class at a Time winner	2016

FELLOWSHIP

Lyman T. Johnson Fellowship	2019-2022
-----------------------------	-----------

SCHOLARLY PRESENTATIONSTalks:

White McDaniel, K. R. (2019, October 2). Racial identity beliefs of Black girls [Presentation]. FRED Talk, Lexington, KY, United States.

White McDaniel, K. R. (2019, October 29). Relationship between racial identity beliefs and self-efficacy in Black girls within the education context [Presentation]. Pre-Three Minute Thesis Competition, Lexington, KY, United States

PUBLICATIONS

White McDaniel, K. R. & Tyler, K. M. (in press). A qualitative examination of the values and costs associated with the achievement motivation of high-achieving Black female high-school students. Journal of Negro Education.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Project: A qualitative examination of the values and costs associated with the achievement motivation of high-achieving Black female students

- Conceptualized research questions

- Conducted literature review
- Conducted data collection
- Conducted data analysis
- Manuscript in preparation

Internship: Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education

- Worked with P-20 Policy and Programs Division
- Helped form and conduct interviews with focus groups consisting of various stakeholders, including school administrators, parents, community members, etc.
- Created resource toolkit based upon emerging themes from focus groups. Resource made accessible to school counselors and Family Resource and Youth Service Center Coordinators (FRYSCs)

SOFTWARE PROFICIENCY

- SPSS
- Qualtrics

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

- American Educational Research Association
 - Member
- Association of Black Psychologists
 - Member