Knox had scholarship offers from Rice, TCU, and Baylor. He chose the Baylor Bears because of their Baptist affiliation, and because he felt he would fit better into the pro passing offense the Bears ran.

Knox played both defensive back and wide receiver for the Baylor Bears and helped the bears to a 2nd place finish to the Texas Longhorns in 1963. Knox played briefly with the Baltimore Colts, a team that included Johnny Unitas and Raymond Berry. Knox also Coached receivers at Missouri under Dan Devine.

2007

Player Stacy Mathis--Goree Wilcats & Roaring Springs Yellowjackets

Stacy Mathis played his freshman football at Roaring Springs and his junior and senior years at Goree, both were six-man football schools. His father was a Baptist minister and moved his family from Roaring Springs, TX to Goree, TX after his freshman football season. Due to the Interscholastic League's rules at the time, a student was not allowed to participate in any sport for one year after transferring to another school. Because of the rule, he had to miss his sophomore football season. In his junior and senior years at Goree, he was the team's leading rusher and receiver. In his senior year, he scored 240 of the team's 440 points and accounted for over 2,000 all-purpose yards. He also led the team in tackles from his linebacker position. Goree was second to Weinert in district for the two years. (Weinert won the Regional championship, which was the highest level that a Six-Man Team could achieve at the time.) Goree lost close, competitive games to Weinert both his junior and senior years. He was on the All District team both years. As a freshman at Roaring Springs, he was a first team starter as a running back. Following his senior season, he was offered and accepted a full athletic scholarship to Baylor University. He was a starter for the 1963 Baylor team that lost only one Southwest Conference game to the University of Texas by a 7 to 0 score. (Texas was the eventual National Champion that season) After completing his college football career and graduating from Baylor, he signed a contract to play professional football with the Ottawa Roughriders of the Canadian Football League. (He also had an offer to sign with the Houston Oilers as a free agent.)

He was a three year starter at linebacker (2001-2003) and second leading tackler in the Ivy League in 2002.

Player Brandon Hoskins--Whitharral Panthers

Coached by Ken Hoskins

As son of legendary coach Ken Hoskins, Brandon was no stranger to Six-Man football success. While playing at Whitharral for his father, Brandon received numerous all-district, all-region and all-state honors, including being named Dave Campbell's Texas Football Magazine's Player of the Year his senior year. In 2001, he was a member of the state championship team and finished his high school career with an impressive district record of 20-0 and many playoff wins. Brandon Continued his athletic success at Liberty University where he was a two-time IC4A Decathlon Champion, and two-time NCAA All American.

Player Duane Hyde--Highland Hornets

Duane Hyde was a member of the Fighting Highland Hornet football team from 1981-1984. During his four years as a starter for the Hornets, he racked up many honors as a team player. He ended his high school football career with a 48-2 record, a respect for hard work, sweat, a sense of responsibility and two state championships under his belt. Duane took his love of football to a new level as he pursued his education degree at Angelo State University. From 1990-2004 he inspired and encouraged players at Blackwell CISD as their head football coach, instilling in them the same work ethic he learned from his high school coaches. Many of these former students are men still active in the six-man society today. He now serves as superintendent of Highland ISD.
