A teen living with the dual diagnosis of Tourette syndrome and obsessive-compulsive disorder plots his own suicide with the inadvertent help of a beautiful girl who simultaneously shows him that life might hold more possibilities than he imagined.

An #Ownvoices novel

Author and Reader Talking Points:

- Why do you write young adult novels?
- What compelled you to write this story?
- What research did you do for the diagnoses in this story?
- What do you hope readers will take away from this novel?

- Has anyone made fun of you for something you cannot help or control? How did that feel?
- Why is it important to understand someone else's situation, feelings, and motivations?
- Has suicide impacted your life in any way?
- Do you know someone who is neurodivergent or disabled and spends most of the time by themselves? How could you include that person?
