Fireworks can be dangerous, so in order to prevent injuries and deaths that are related to fireworks, here are a few safety tips to follow this Fourth of July:

- Children should never be allowed to ignite or play with fireworks.
- An adult should always be supervising firework activity.
- A garden hose or bucket of water should always be on hand in the event of a mishap or fire.
- No one should ever try to pick up or re-ignite a firework that did not ignite properly or fully the first time around.
- Fireworks should only be lit one at a time and the person lighting them should immediately move away from the firework after lighting it.
- Keep Pets indoors
- Read and follow all Manufacturers' warnings and instructions
- Make sure fireworks are legal in your area before using them
- Never throw fireworks at another person
- Shoot fireworks on a clean, flat surface away from the house or flammable materials.
