

More Efficiency for Your Business

The Problem

Many organizations have moved toward open office design to maximize space utilization, improve collaboration, and foster creativity. While there are many benefits, this new way of working has also created challenges for employees seeking spaces to focus and take refuge from the dynamic activity of the modern workplace.

The Solution

Inpro, LLC offers a high-performance, cost-effective personal privacy solution that empowers employees to be more productive and satisfied at work. Privacy Pods are quiet spaces to get work done – from private phone calls to a personal place to focus.

The Inpro, LLC Difference

Working closely with industry-leading companies and top dealers around the country, Inpro, LLC has developed a Privacy Pod leveraging patented Inpro, LLC technology that delivers reliable performance at a fraction of the cost of most phone booths on the market today. Privacy Pods are a result of that collaborative and iterative innovation process.
