* Some Important Notes To Remember:

- * Most E-apps will work much better with a laptop or an I-pad. Not very many tablets are compatible with E-apps.
- * Getting going, stick with the main products so you can get familiar with them and are able to sell them easier.
- * Understanding products is not as important as making calls and setting appointments. The best way to learn is to get out there and just do it.
- * Another good way to learn about products, is to call the carriers and ask them questions about the products mentioned above. Their marketing/sales departments can answer all your product questions.
- * If you don't know if a client will qualify for a specific product, call the carrier and ask to speak to an underwriter and ask them for a risk assessment.
- * Once you are contracted with the carriers, you can call their marketing department and ask them to send you supplies by email and regular mail.
- * Even though most carriers have E-apps, you should always have paper apps as back up. And always prepare for your appointments the day before.
