HDC = half double crochet

Easy Baby Blanket
Crochet Pattern

Pattern Notes

Baby blanket can be made in any size. Chain any even number of chains to adjust the size.

Every row starts and ends with a slip stitch.

Always work a HDC on top of a HDC in the previous row and a Sl St on top of a Sl St in the previous row.

Make your first and last slip stitches slightly loose, they are going to be easier to crochet into.

Instructions

With a J-10 crochet hook, chain 110 or any even number or your desired width of the baby blanket.

Row 1: Switch to a H-8 crochet hook. Starting in the second Ch from hook work a *Sl St, then a HDC in the next chain. Repeat from * across the row. Work a Sl St in the last St. Ch 1 and turn.

Row 2: Work a *Sl St in the first St, then a HDC in the next stitch. Repeat from * across the row. Work a Sl St in the last St. Ch 1 and turn.

Rows 3-123: Repeat row 2 until you reach your desired size. Fasten off and weave in all ends.

The artist made 123 rows. (If you want this blanket to work up faster, choose a bulky yarn and a bigger size hook. That will make your blanket thicker and warmer as well.)

She chose three different colors and distributed them equally, one-third of the baby blanket in each color, which is around 41 rows in one color. But you can make your blanket all in one solid color, or in any number of colors you like. There could be so many different versions of this baby blanket, just by using different colors & types of yarn!
