CREATIVE HAIRCUTS: LONG HAIR

Advanced creative haircuts require a high level of skill and creativity from the hairstylist. These haircuts often involve complex techniques, such as intricate layering, asymmetrical cutting, and blending different lengths and textures to create a unique and eye-catching look. They can be customized to suit different face shapes, hair types, and personal styles, and can range from edgy and bold to soft and romantic.

Collaboration between you and the stylist is key to ensuring the final result meets your expectations and suits your lifestyle.

Appointments for advanced creative haircuts may take longer than traditional haircuts, as each cut is customized to you. However, the end result is often well worth the investment in time and money, as you leave with a truly unique and personalized haircut that enhances their natural beauty. At our salon, our hairstylists are trained extensively to stay up to date with the latest techniques and tools used in advanced creative haircuts. We pride ourselves on working closely with our clients to ensure that they leave with a haircut that is tailored to their individuality and style. Whether it's an edgy pixie cut or a soft and romantic lob, we are dedicated to providing a high-quality service that leaves our clients feeling confident and beautiful.

There are many types of haircuts that can be customized to suit an individual's face shape, hair type, and personal style.

Butterfly Layers: Butterfly layers are a short, layered haircut with shorter top layers and longer bottom layers, creating a wing-like effect that adds volume and texture to the hair. It's a great way to add dimension to short hair while maintaining a unique look Waterfall Layers: This layering technique involves cutting the hair in cascading layers that flow into each other, creating a seamless transition from short to long hair. This technique works well for adding volume to thin hair.

Mermaid Layers: This layering technique involves creating long, loose layers that mimic the look of mermaid hair. The layers are typically cut in a slightly uneven fashion to add texture and movement.

Classic Layers: This layering technique involves creating uniform layers throughout the hair, adding movement and volume to the hair without creating a specific shape.

Feathered Layers: This layering technique involves cutting the hair in feather-like layers, with shorter layers on top and longer layers underneath. This creates a light, airy effect and works well for adding volume to fine hair.

Face-framing Layers: This layering technique involves cutting layers around the face to create a flattering, face-framing effect. This technique works well for all face shapes and hair types.

Choppy Layers: This layering technique involves cutting the hair in uneven, choppy layers to create a textured, edgy look. This technique is often used on short to medium-length hair.

Wolf/Shag Layers: This layering technique involves creating layers that are shorter on top and longer on the bottom, creating a shaggy, unkempt/messy effect. This technique is often used on longer hair to create a bohemian or rock-inspired look.

Angled Bob with Layers: This is a variation of the classic bob cut, featuring a diagonal angle with shorter hair in the back and longer hair in the front. The addition of layers adds movement and texture for a versatile and customizable hairstyle.

V-Shape Layers: This layering technique involves cutting the hair in a V-shape, with the shortest layers at the crown of the head and the longest layers at the bottom. This technique is often used on long, straight hair to create a more dynamic look.

Asymmetrical Cut: This is a specific type of haircut where the hair is cut into an uneven shape, with one side longer than the other. This technique is often used on short to medium-length hair to create an edgy, avant-garde look.

Undercut: This is a specific type of haircut where the hair on the sides and/or back of the head is shaved or cut very short, while the hair on top is left longer. This technique is often used on short to medium-length hair to create a bold, androgynous look.

Top Knot: This is a specific hairstyle where the hair is pulled up into a knot on top of the head. This technique works well on all hair types and is a popular choice for a quick and easy updo.

Pixie Cut: This is a specific type of short haircut where the hair is cut very short all over, typically leaving a longer section on top. This technique works well for highlighting facial features and creating a bold, statement look.

Straight Cut: This is a simple haircut where the hair is cut straight across at the ends. This technique works well on all hair types and creates a clean, classic look.

V-Cut: This is a haircut where the hair is cut to a single length with a V-shape trim at the back. This technique works well on long, straight hair.

U-Cut: A U-cut is a style that creates a U-shape at the bottom of the hair. It is a simple, low-maintenance cut that works well for most hair types.

Blunt Cut: A blunt cut is a precise and sharp hairstyle that features a straight-line cut without any layers or texture. This hairstyle can be customized to fit individual preferences and creates a bold and sophisticated look that is easy to maintain.

Long Bob: Also known as a "lob," a long bob is a shoulder-length cut that is longer in the front and shorter in the back. It can be styled straight or with waves, and is a versatile option for those who want a shorter cut without going too short.

Inverted Bob: An inverted bob is a variation of the classic bob, where the hair is shorter in the back and longer in the front, creating a stacked effect. It's a stylish and modern cut that can be worn with or without bangs.

Curtain Bangs: Curtain bangs are a versatile hairstyle where the bangs are parted in the middle and swept to the sides, framing the face like a curtain. They work well with any hair length and texture.

Side-Swept Bangs: Side-swept bangs are a classic style that are swept to one side of the forehead. They're a flattering option for most face shapes and can be incorporated into a variety of hairstyles.

Face-Framing Bangs: Face-framing bangs are a style that are cut to frame the face, often shorter on the sides and longer in the front. They're a great option for those who want to add dimension to their hair and accentuate their features.

French Bangs: French bangs, also called "Bardot" bangs, are wispy, longer than regular bangs, and parted in the middle, framing the face in a soft, romantic manner. They work with various hair textures and lengths.

Baby/Micro Bangs: Baby or micro bangs are a style where the bangs are cut very short, just above or below the eyebrows. It's a bold and edgy look that can be difficult to pull off, but when done right, can be very stylish and chic.
