THE CREATION OF TWO UNIONS

On November 2, 1890, 79 musicians attended Seattle's first union-local planning meeting, held in the old Armory Hall at 4th Avenue and Union Street, and the Musicians' Mutual Protective Union (MMPU), Local 30 of the NLM, came into formal existence on November 7, 1890. An office was set up in Room 219 of the Seattle Block at 3rd Avenue and Columbia Street, and Local 30 began holding general meetings at the Western Central Labor headquarters, presided over by its first president, L. E. Booth, who served from 1892 to 1898. In late 1896, some members of the National League of Musicians formed the American Federation of Musicians (AFM), which was chartered as an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor (A.F. of L.) and eventually grew to subsume the NLM.

Meanwhile, in the wake of the rip-roaring Klondike Gold Rush of 1897 -- when local musicians could find steady employment entertaining departing and returning miners in countless Seattle bars and theaters -- Local 30 members were disgruntled that various theater owners resisted paying standard-scale wages. When the union called a formal strike, six theater owners held a secret meeting to plan their response. On February 6, 1898, they founded the Seattle Order of Good Things to maintain their advantage. Their collective response to the union was extremely hard-line, each owner fired the theater house band and replaced it with a single pianist.

Three weeks later, on March 1, 1898, NLM Local 30 was recast as the Musicians' Association of Seattle, American Federation of Musicians, Local 76, A.F.of L.

In April the Seattle Order of Good Things name was changed to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which would in time become the largest such group in the nation.

Strife between venue management and musical artists was soon settled by an interested party; the patrons were immediately angered by just piano players for entertainment, and forced the owners to bring back the bands.

Out of it we have two Unions; One of Musicians, and one of People helping People

SUMMER AT MY COUSINS IN DES MOINES

This was always a major event for Little Bobby. My Dad's third sister had two children and Joel was about a year older than myself. The two of us spent a lot of time together as children. I would go in many summers to that far city. His family lived in a real nice house at the North end of town, just off Main Street. The house was large, white, and well built. There was a gulch at the back of the house that once went steeply down to the bay and creek. There had been a nice backyard with walkways, grass, and shrubs. In years past it was not maintained. By the time I got there it was wild with Black Berries and all manner of flora. It was hell to go down to the bay and bad to walk back up. There was an open field next door, and a little church as the avenue turned East toward Main Street. Next door to that lived a family named Schultz, and they had girls! Joel was in love with one of the girls. The house just South of the Schultz house was an old very large house and I never saw anyone around it. The grass was mowed always, but everything else was in a state of neglect.

What made Bobby think of this was PSP Ken Schnorr. He and myself had been talking and Des Moines came up. Ken had been a police officer for many years in town. I talked then about what I have just written, and Ken remembered the house that was called the Marshalls. That same old house that no one seemed to live at. He said that he had to go there once, and what a story Ken told. Ask about that one. But I had never seen the old couple that lived there. But Ken had to go into the house. Let him tell you all about it.

Now back to the story. Just past there going South Joel's best friend lived. There was a lot of playing for three little boys. I spent time on the beach, learned to ride a bicycle, played astronauts, and spent lots of time on Main Street. The drug store had gum ball machines, toy machines, and candy machines. There would be hours of playing spacemen in outer space. Joel wanted to be nuclear physicist, Larry Lankston wanted to be an Air Force pilot, and Bobby was just a cowboy that came from Wenatchee. All in all, there was much fun in downtown Des Moines.

On the South end of town was the Eastern Star Masonic Retirement Castle, and of course the Marina. It was a little town at that time, and there was lots of wild country between towns. The older boy taught Bobby about lots of bad things. The old salt on the slugs was a big one.

I remember how the old tree stumps would have new baby trees growing out of the middle of them. God, there was a lot of green stuff over there.

Joel's dad was a businessman and had grown up in East Wenatchee. He was a great father and inventor. One of his companies was called LILCO. He made teeth for steam shovels and back hoes. There were round street sweep brushes the cities all still use and a whole lot of other things. I still have the bay doors from that house. They are mounted in the basement of my house in Wenatchee. Joel never became a nuclear physicist. About the time he was supposed to graduate college and be one, he up a quit and went to a different college and became a preacher. He was really good at the job, and even years after returning, preached at my Dad's funeral. I don't see him much anymore. He now lives in Portland and has a big family.

William “Bill” Stotko Grand Aerie Conductor

Bill Stotko, Grand Worthy Conductor , joined the Fraternal Order of Eagles in September of 1977, joining the Monroe Eagles #2327 in Monroe Washington. He quickly became involved in the Fraternal side of the Fraternal order of Eagles, working his way through the Officer chairs of his home Aerie. Although Brother Bill was a Truck Driver by trade, he could always be depended on to step up when assistance was needed in maintaining his home Aerie.

Brother Bill became President of Monroe Aerie in 1997 – 1998 after working his way up through the chairs. Brother Bill has also held the position of Aerie President. Bill eventually had to transfer to Everett Aerie 13, in Everett Washington, following the closure of his home Aerie. Since his transfer to Everett Aerie #13, Brother Bill has the positions of Aerie President and Aerie Trustee as well as the Aerie Secretary. Brother Bill has held the position of Aerie Secretary, for 7 Eagles years in both the Monroe Eagles as well as the Everett Eagles. Currently, Brother Bill is once again filling the position of Aerie Secretary.

Brother Bill became the Washington State Aerie President during the 2010 – 2011 Eagle year after working his way up through the chairs beginning his journey at the Trustee level in 2001 - 2002. During this period, Brother Bill was also very involved in the initial development of the Washington State Aerie training program, being a part of the original group that put the training program together. Much of the training program was later adopted by the Grand Aerie in the development of the Grand Aerie Training program.

Brother Bill was selected from among all the Past State Presidents of Washington State to be the Pacific Northwest Reginal President for the Eagle year 2018 – 2019.

During this same period of time, Brother Bill has also been very active in working with Aeries in difficulty throughout the United States. Brother Bill’s knowledge of the Grand Aerie Statutes as well as his respect for members rights, has given him the ability, working with these distressed Eagle Aeries and Auxiliaries, to bring them back into full compliance with our order.

Brother Bill has filled the position of Grand Aerie Elections Chairman for the last several years, being instrument in converting the election counting process into an electronic process that is able to tabulate the election count and provide results in hours rather than the days that it used to take. This same process was later adopted by the Grand Auxiliary as well.

Brother Bill and his wife Carey have been married for 33 years and have three children, Philip, Patricia, and Theresa. Additionally, Brother Bill and Sister Carey have seven Grand Children.

Washington State Auxiliary F. O. E.

SUNSHINE BULLETIN

HARVEST ... WHEN YOU WORK TOGETHER THINGS FALL IN PLACE

Hello Washington State Sisters,

I hope everyone is doing well. Wow, how was that snow fall? We had beautiful powder snow, which I really enjoy. We need a certain amount to replenish our watershed and aquifer. So far this year, locally, our snowfall has been 19", not as much as we had 2018/2019, which was 30". I know not everyone enjoys the snow. Driving becomes more of a hazard and cleaning the snow off your car is not much fun. It took me four hours to clear the snow from my driveway. It felt good to be outside doing some physical work; but not so much when I had to clear it out two other times because of the snowplow blocking me in again! By then the snow was not looking so pretty.

Please send prayers and good thoughts to the people who live in the state of Texas. It is incredibly sad, the hardships that they are having to deal with.

I am sure that many are happy that Washington State has moved into Phase 2, allowing us to open up our Eagles clubs and start having meetings, with approval of the local liquor Control board and state guidelines. It has been difficult not seeing our Auxiliary Sisters, bringing in new Auxiliary Sisters and raising funds for our charities. Hopefully, we will be moving into Phase 3 as soon as possible.

The State Aerie is working on arrangements for State Convention in June. I am looking forward to State Convention, as I am sure a lot of the Sisters and Brothers are. Take care of yourself and be safe.

Fraternally,
JoAnn Schultz
State Madam President

STATE MEMBERSHIP CHAIRMAN KAT NOLDAN

Hi sisters,

Well here we are just a few short weeks from spring and a week and a half from turning our clocks ahead an hour. Yahoo, more day light!!!!

Well we didn't do to well in membership last month, we only had 4 new or re-enrolled sisters. I know some Auxiliaries have already started having meetings, and some are going to start this month. Sister's, let's work a little bit harder to bring in some new or re-enroll some sisters that have dropped. You know Saint Patrick's Day is the 17th so maybe the luck of the Irish will rub off on us.

I am looking forward to start getting out and visiting you all. So with all this being said,

May your blessings out number your shamrocks that grow, and that trouble avoids you wherever you go.

See you on the Eagle trail,
Kat Noldan, St. Membership Chm.

Sisters:

There are 13 Auxiliaries that still have not paid their November 30th State Per Capita. Please check your email for the statement and pay as soon as possible. You cannot attend State Convention if it is not paid. We are working on State Convention and will get stuff out to you as soon as possible. We are getting close to deadlines and that is why we did a survey of who will be attending so we know how many to plan for, which will determine where and if at all possible. As soon as I know anything I will get it out to you.

Fraternally yours,
Charlene Butterfield
