Reviewing the City of Fort Lauderdale Charter

Your City. Your Charter. Your Vote.

The City of Fort Lauderdale is considering amendments to its charter. The charter is like our city's constitution and guides how the city is governed. It explains how decisions are made, who's responsible for what, and how services like parks, roads, and public safety are provided. It outlines the roles of the mayor, city commissioners, and city manager, ensuring everyone works together to serve the community. It's designed to keep everything running smoothly and fairly for residents like you.

Any changes to the charter must be approved by residents through a public vote. Your vote decides how our government works.

ON THE BALLOT: A RENEWAL OF THE NEXT GENERATION REFERENDUM

Broward County Public Schools (BCPS) is presenting voters with a referendum renewal that will appear on the November 3, 2026, general election ballot.

This is not a new tax or a tax increase. It is a renewal of the one-mill property tax voters already approved. The Next Generation Referendum would continue securing funds for all Broward County public schools — including charter schools — to:
