

Who am I? By Dan Coyle

Standing on the outside looking in and wondering, 'Who am I? '

Then thinking where have I come from? Where have I been? Where am I going?

This will extend my limits of who I believe myself to be. What I ask myself while I stand looking in at myself is, is it safe to stand at the edge of myself? Do I just jump in or carry on by and carry on being who I am?

I am caring and loving, a protector of my family, loved ones and friends. I am a bit daft like a joke. I am honest and forthright. I am me, Dan Coyle. I am proud of who I am. I am proud I have navigated my path in life. I am happy where I have been and happy where I am going. The best thing is I have answered my own questions.

This is who I am and I'm damn proud of me.
