

Dark Chocolate Mint Crunch: Leone Flemons

Please

Someone help me to be wiser.

There's the solicitor, the accountant, and the financial advisor.

And then, of course, there's Centrelink,
but I'm finding it really hard to think;
almost feel I could use a shrink.

Mind you - I'm well away from the brink.

Where does one go from here?

Well, next stop the Post Office to clear the air.

No sooner had I entered the door –
saw what the answer might be.

There at the counter, to have with lunch,
Darrell Lea dark chocolate mint crunch.
