

My Famous Parents: Dan Coyle

2/6/1955 born to Jim and Ruth Coyle both blind was a little fella called Daniel Coyle. These two wonderful people brought up 3 sons, never asked for help or assistance but if offered gladly accepted.

People go on about fame and being rich and famous. But fame and fortune is for some the be all and end all. For some, being Famous is to just get on with their lot. Now Mum and Dad gave us the best, and both of them were famous to us because they were heroes. Their sense of humour was second to none, little things they said, like if anything sexy on tv mum would say, 'what's happening?' We would say well they are kissing and cuddling on the bed and mum says 'OOOOH IT'S GETTING HOT UP THEM STAIRS.' Or Dad, when my brother asked for an ice cream. 'Can I have an ice cream?' Dad said 'no.' Mark said 'why not?' THE ANSWER WAS BECAUSE YOU ASKED. I said I did ask; the answer was WELL THAR DIDNT WANT ONE. We were loved, cared for and wanted for nothing, my Famous Parents my Heroes my Rocks.
