

To be filthy or not to be; that is the question: Titania

Whether it be nobler in the mind

To be digging in soft soil

Or to be engaging in

Cleaner pastimes

So, say we choose the former

Digging in smooth velvet silt

Withdrawing our filthy hands

To plant tiny seeds,

Tucking them in

Patience then, to await

Reaping bountiful harvests

Or arrays of beautiful

Rainbow flowers

And when eco champions plant

Beautiful verdant saplings

Baby trees I call them

And engage in much-needed

Bush regeneration

Here is the question:

Are our hands filthy

Or earthy?

Another question for a lively debate:

What's more valuable?

Dirt or diamonds?

The latter perhaps most would say

I ask you this:

Can you grow an oxygen rich

And life-giving forest

In acres of diamonds?
Even a succulent veggie garden?
Diamonds are a girl's best friend
Or so they say
Not when she and her family are starving
Nay!
So, what's more valuable?
Fancy gems or life?

The 50 Shades of Grey

Filthy or erotic?
You decide
Romance? Orgy? Both?
Was it about healing
A troubled, abused soul?
As I took it to be
Food for thought

I see sex as a sacred thing
Upsetting when it's cheapened
Seeing women used as sex objects
Many goaded to believe
That's their lot
Everyone deserves equality, love,
Peace and respect

I had a filthy shirt
Just wash it, you may say
It had the many uses
Of the F word
My dirty shirt

I called it
Until the fer fell apart

Are tonight's dishes filthy
Or just used?
That's what they're for
Methinks; washed and reused
We don't eat off the floor
Or the ground
Like hungry wolves
No judgment to animal kingdoms, mind
They have different ways
To we humankind

Filthy worn clothes...
Fancy going around naked?
Most don't live in nudist colonies
Or visit nudist beaches
Again, no judgement
To their way of life
Feeling nudity is natural
It is how we enter this weird
Terrible
And wonderful world
After all

So, what constitutes filth?
Is it indeed filthy
To have dirty hands, dishes
Or clothes?
To make love?

Or are these
Aspects of life
Making it more peaceful
Enjoyable
Easier to navigate
In the garden
Or our homes
Out in the wide world
Without much ado,
You'll be sure to find
Some kind of sparkling
And earthy magic
In the often tedious daily grind
